Borough Facing Review of Two-Year Old Rent-Control Ordinance

Rent control has been in effect in the Borough since August, 1973. The two-year ordinance will be up for consideration in the next few months and members of the Rent-leveling Board, landlords and tenants are already beginning to think about it:

Should the ordinance be retained, as is?

Has it protected tenants and been fair to landlords?

Has it brought about a decline in the number of rental units in the Borough?

Should it be scrapped altogether?

"The ordinance has served the purpose of keeping the lid on," is the view of Alan Wallack, chairman of the rent board. "It does need change and amendments but without it, rents would have increased more than they have."

"We should get rid of the ordinance," says Hans Lechner, who describes himself as a landlord representative on the board. "The maximum rent you are allowed becomes the minimum rent, and the controlled units have gone up more than those that are not controlled. I know, because I own both kinds."

Under the ordinance, there is no rent control for single-family houses, nor for one side of a two-family house if the owner lives in the other side. Dormitories are also not controlled.

Rent increases swing with the Consumer Price Index. Landlords can increase rent the amount of the CPI, and in the winter just past, this has meant allowable increases of 13 percent over last year. If a tenant had a two-year lease, points out rent coordinator Lucy Graves, this might have meant an increase of 13 percent plus whatever the allowable increase would have been for the preceding year.

The CPI is going down, and is now about 10.7 percent for a May rental. By September, when most leases expire, it could be even lower, Mrs. Graves thinks. Most landlords, in her experience, were accustomed to increases of about 10 percent before rent control.

She has found that many Prin-cton landlords are not using leases any more. Without a lease, landlords can increase the rent whenever they want to, with only a month's notice. However, so much paper work is involved here that small landlords---usually the ones who want to get as much as they possibly can---simply don't think it's worth all the effort.

Mrs. Graves, in her coordinator's job, hasn't seen any increases on an every-month basis. Increases every four to six months have been imposed, however. Mrs. Graves has office hours in Borough Hall from 10-2 Tuesdays and Thursdays. She is available for consultation by landlords and tenants, and anyone else with questions.

At the moment, Mrs. Graves is writing all landlords, asking whether they are still renting. Landlords who haven't registered their units---and registration is required under an

Incumbents Sigmund and Moffat to Run Again; Powell Appears Doubtful, Sutphin Definitely Out

Two Princeton office-holders said this week they will definitely run for a second term. One said definitely that he will not run for a second term. The fourth hasn't said but everyone assumes he won't run again.
A newcomer, who hasn't run for office in Princeton before, will take the place of the office-holder who definitely isn't running.
Meanwhile, the Borough's Republican mayor, Robert W. Cawley, has the field to himself. So far, the Democrats haven't found anyone willing to run against him. He'll be running for his third term and is probably unbeatable.
Sigmund: "Yes." "I am happy to run again," is the way Borough Council Democrat Barbara Sigmund puts it.

Robert Powell, who ran with her three years ago, hasn't made his decision known, but associates believe his new and time-consuming job with the state's economic development group may compel him to say a reluctant "no."
In the Township, Democrat Abbot Low Moffat says yes, he plans to seek a second term. Democrat William Sutphin says no, he will not run again.
Leonard Etz, 1038 Princeton-Kingston Road, will run for Mr. Sutphin's seat. Vice-chairman of the joint Borough-Township committee studying possible consolidation, Mr. Etz is a lawyer specializing in administrative codes and is a consultant to various local governments.

No Word from Township GOP. Borough Republicans have one Council candidate, at this writing, and need another. Township Republicans have not made their position known.
Primary day is June 3, although nobody expects a primary contest in Princeton. It's hard enough to get anybody at all to run, much less two or more vying in tense contest for the same seat.
Deadline for filing is Thursday, April 24. Those who want to run can still get in touch with Democratic and Republican leaders in Borough or Township and offer their services.

PLANT A TREE
"Living Museum" Event.
On May 3, when Princeton holds an outdoor party to celebrate the start of the Bicentennial, you can order a tree which will be planted on the restored Princeton Battlefield site in your name, or the name of somebody you want to remember.

The battle's site was an apple orchard, and purists hoped to replant. But the apple, short-lived and disease-prone, didn't seem to be quite the right kind of tree. So trees like flowering crabapple and the like, will be planted instead.

Order your tree from noon until 4:30 the afternoon of May 3 on Palmer Square. A calligrapher will give you an "antique" certificate inscribed in whatever name you dictate, as the donor. For $5, you may order a bird-feeding shrub; for $10, a six-foot tree, and for $15 a flowering tree. Trees will be planted in the fall of 1976 or the spring of '77 after the Thomas Clarke House has been completely restored.

Sponsors of the tree sale are the Princeton Area Battlefield Preservation Society, the Garden Club of Princeton and the Stony Brook Garden Club.
The theme of the May 3 Bicentennial opening day, is "Nassau Street: A Living Museum."

Deadline for Lower School Budget Extended By 4 Weeks as Discussions Continue Here

School and municipal officials have an additional four weeks to agree on a revised school budget. At the request of Princeton's school board and the two governing bodies, the State Department of Education has re-scheduled the pre-hearing conference with the County Superintendent of Schools for Thursday, May 15. It was originally set for April 17.

Representatives of school board, Borough Council and Township Committee will sit down next Wednesday, April 23, for their second meeting, to see whether they can close the gap between the $285,000 the governing bodies want to slice from the budget, and the $130,000 the school board prefers.

By state law, governing bodies must take on a school budget if it's defeated by the voters. Princeton's voters rejected the school budget on March 4.

At next week's meeting, board president Winthrop Pike and members J.B. Smith and Joan Doig will represent the board, with Superintendent Philip E. McPherson or business manager Ronald Novak backing them up. Robert Powell is expected to represent Borough Council and Abbot Low Moffat and William Sutphin, Township Committee.

"We're still talking," was the only comment Mr. Pike would make this week on the progress of the talks with Council and Committee. He added that county school officials like to have local boards and municipalities exhaust all possibilities before turning to the county.

FAMOUS MOMENTS IN MOUSE HISTORY

Whenever tax time rolls around I get thinking about one of my favorite mice. Lady Godiva mouse, wife of the Earl of Chester. She was the mouse who rode naked through the streets of Coventry, England in protest of the high taxes her husband had levied on the town.

That was back in the year 1000 and was one of the first recorded acts of social protest by a lady mouse. It certainly showed a lot of cheek...at least that's how it seemed from our side.

Of course that's only hindsight.

*Note from the Princeton Mouse Historical Society. "Legend tells us that the term 'Peeping Tom' originated from this famous event. A young student named Tom was peeping from an upstairs window and was struck blind...hence the term 'Peeping Tom'."

older Borough ordinance whether a unit is now rent-controlled or not—are invited to register now. There won't be any penalties, Mrs. Graves promises, for landlords who didn't register before.

What changes are needed in the ordinance?

"The ordinance tends to discourage capital improvements," Mr. Wallack acknowledges, "landlords are only allowed pennies per month to amortize expenses over a period of months. We need to change the ordinance so they can pass on to the tenants slightly higher proportion of their expenses right in the beginning."

"And we could allow landlords some 'investment dollars,' so to speak. Otherwise landlords will put their $10,000 or whatever, into an investment where they can make more money, and not into improving the property."

Survey Advocated. Mr. Lechner suggests the Borough check building permits to see whether there has actually been a decline in property improvement under the ordinance.

"How many building permits were issued for these rent-controlled units before rent control?" he asks, "and how many since? I don't know how such a survey would come out, but it might show landlords less apt to remodel, under rent control."

Non-controlled units, with the owner living in the other half of the house, get better treatment because the owner takes better care of the place where he lives himself, Mr. Lechner thinks.

"Lack of clear definitions in the ordinance has been a problem," Mr. Wallack has found, "We need to know more clearly what terms mean, how calculations are made and so on. How far back can you go in figuring a base year, for example, in retroactive cases?"

Sliding Scale Urged. Barbara Sigmund, Borough Council member who supported the 1973 ordinance, believes some kind of sliding-scale levelling is still needed, but she thinks the scale should reflect the state of the economy more sharply than the present CPI scale. In 1973, she proposed an amendment to that effect, but Council outvoted her.

"I'd like the percentage to be an average CPI figure, not an absolute," she says. "It's fairer to both tenant and landlord to use the average CPI over the entire period of the lease. It's capricious to apply the CPI figure for just that one month the lease comes due."

Mrs. Sigmund says other towns in New Jersey have changed from the CPI absolute, to an averaged-out CPI. She adds that she is open to hearing reasons why the ordinance shouldn't be renewed at all.

Graves says "No;" Mr. Lechner, "Yes."

"Increases under the CPI have been so high—why should a landlord remove any units from the market?" Mrs. Graves asks.

Mr. Lechner says real estate agents have told him a flood of rental properties were on the market in 1974, so much they could hardly be handled. Yet he adds that rent control makes it easier for a landlord.

"Rent control tells me what I can charge, and I charge it, and I'm getting more," he shrugs. "With non-controlled units, you get a good tenant, you take care of the place, you give a little. But this doesn't happen in controlled units."

More Rooms Available. Many single "rooms-for-rent" have come on the market recently, Mr. Lechner says. He thinks it's a reflection of hard times: families hit by unemployment will rent a room to pick up a bit of extra income.

He'd like to see the Borough allow home-owners to re-do their houses for small one-room-and-kitchen units. This is expensive remodeling, he says, because the building code requires two No. 12 wires, each on a separate fuse, each with no more than three receptacles, and a third wire on a separate fuse for lights. Safely remodeled in this way, private homes could provide one-room quarters to young marrieds and single people, he thinks.

"But then, the restaurants would suffer," he comments, "and the density might be increased....."

Illegal hot-plates have been an uneasy fact of life in Borough rentals for many years. Nobody knows exactly how many there are.

Coming months will shape what happens to the ordinance in August.

"It has worked, in my view," Mr. Wallack repeats. "Nobody has demanded relief from Simon Legree landlords, no landlords are going to Council with financial distress, there hasn't been any mass exodus from Princeton. We'll continue to talk about ways the ordinance can be made better."

FOOD WEEK GROWS
As Hunger Conference Nears. Supported by some 40 University and community organizations, Food Week activities planned by Princeton Hunger Action will reach a peak with "a day of fasting, thought, meditation and action" this Thursday and an all-day conference on Saturday in and around Whig Hall.

The Princeton World Hunger Conference on Saturday is open to the public from 9:30 to 5 featuring lectures, films, workshops, music, and information tables that can be attended in part or en toto.

In a centerfold spread in Monday's "Princetonian", the sponsoring group stated, "small changes in each individual's consumption patterns and vigorous political lobbying can accomplish much".

Princeton Hunger Action feels that the fact that 100 people are starving to death each minute and that 40 percent of the world's population is undernourished makes it imperative that individuals "do something". They believe that "the problem is manageable".

Eat Less Beef. The group points out that "a cow must be fed 21.4 pounds of vegetable protein to produce one pound of animal protein for human consumption, and that if the U.S. population eliminated 10 percent of its highly wasteful beef intake, enough grain would be saved to feed the starving areas of the world".

Facts such as these have gained support for Food Week activities from 36 campus groups as diverse as University Food Services and Cap and Gown Club to the Chapel Foundation, Le Cercle Francais, the Association of Black Collegians, and Accion Puertoriquena.

Financial and material support has been contributed by such community organizations as Stewardson-Dougherty Associates, Haskins Press and the Interfaith Council.

Many of these groups have individually called for support of the community-wide fast on Thursday, with all of the University's dining facilities offering students the choice of fasting. The money saved will be contributed to the World Hunger Fund.

Worship Service. Thursday's fast will be augmented by a chapel program that includes a group meditation at 4, an ecumenical vigil at 5 and a community-wide worship service at 6, led by the Rev. William Kirby, Dean Ernest Gordon and Rabbi Edward Feld.

These activities will be followed by Theatre Intime's benefit premiere of "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" and a benefit poetry reading at the Princeton Inn, both at 8.

Saturday's conference will be keynoted by Ambassador S.A. Karin, Permanent Representative of Bangladesh to the U.N., speaking at 10.

Other lecture and panel discussion topics during the day include "The Role of the Relief Agencies" and "Domestic Hunger and its Roots", both at 11; "U.S. Foreign Policy and the World Food Crisis" at 1; "Perspectives in Agriculture and Nutrition" at 2; "The Role of Multinational Corporations, Two Views" at 3; and a plenary session at 4 on "What the World, and We, Must Do".

There will be music by "Prophecy" from 12 to 1 on Cannon Green, and throughout the day, the "Nassoons", "Tigertones", and "Katzenjammers" will also sing.

LEARNING COMMUNITY?

No Decision Yet. Action on the Princeton High Learning Community will not be taken until May, school board president Winthrop Pike said this week. The board will hold its April meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Community Park School.

The Learning Community committee, composed of students, parents and teachers, is scheduled to hold its second meeting this Wednesday. Hannah Fox, board vice-president, said the committee hopes it can report by April 23. She also hopes to have, by Wednesday's meeting, the number of PHS students who signed up for next year's Learning Community.

The Golden Touch

First the rain
And then a chill,
But in between—
The daffodill!

They're still not sure the world is ready for them, as temperature readings continue well below normal, but the daffodils are beginning to appear in considerable profusion. As one of their admirers said, "It the Lord hadn't felt they could withstand the cold. He wouldn't have planned them for early spring."

Even with April past the mid-way point, nothing in the way of warm weather is in sight. Skies were expected to be partially sunny Wednesday and Thursday, with a chance of rain late Friday. The weekend should be dry—and cool.

Mr. Pike told reporters at the board's monthly press conference Tuesday that the board may open its executive meetings to the public regardless of the fate of the "Sunshine" bill. That measure, pending in the legislature, would compel public bodies to hold all meetings in public.

At Tuesday's school board meeting, the board will discuss next year's school calendar. It extends the winter holiday through January 2, and encompasses both Passover and Easter in the spring recess.

No firm decisions have yet been made on staff appointments, Mr. Pike reported. At Tuesday's meeting, revised by-laws will be presented for the first time, and copies will be available for public study.

PHYSICS LAB VICTIM

Of Electrical Thieves. Electrical equipment valued at more than $2,000 was reported stolen Friday from Princeton University's Jadwin Physics Lab on Washington Road.

There was no sign of forced entry and Township police say that the equipment was apparently taken over a period of two weeks. Missing are a spectra laser ($400), two generators ($1200), a scaler ($520) and a camera tripod ($40). Ptl. David Funk is investigating.

Borough police report the theft of $1,040 from a cash box in a second floor office of Western Union Telegraph Co. located in the building at 205 Nassau Street. Police said the money was "taken by unknown persons by unknown means" between 3 Saturday afternoon and 9 Monday morning.

Another weekend theft occurred in a studio room in Williamson Hall at the Westminster Choir College.

An electric typewriter, tape recorder, microphone and portable amplifier—total value $560—were taken by someone who, police believe, had a key to the studio. There were no signs of forced entry. Police commented that a master set of keys stolen just previously had never been reported to the police.

TV Set Stolen. A TV set valued at $110 was stolen between 7:30 and 8:30 Saturday evening from a room in the Princeton Inn College. Entry was through an unlocked window. Township police identified the owner as Jerene Thompson.

A staple gun and other equipment with a combined value of $24 were stolen last week from a home being constructed at 74 Ross Stevenson Circle off Mount Lucas Road. Ptl. Mario Musso reports that a rear door was pried open. The owner is Geddes W. Hanson.

A student's black leather wallet containing $18 was stolen last week from an unlocked second floor room at the Quadrangle Club, while an AM-FM radio and tape player was taken from a room in the Princeton Inn Dorm. Police report that three windows of the ground floor had been broken.

A $200 electric typewriter was taken between 1 and 9 p.m. Sunday from a second floor room at the Tower Club on Prospect Avenue. A university student reports the theft of her bag Thursday evening from the sculpture room in the old Nassau Street school building, 185 Nassau. She lost $2 and her Franklin State Bank checkbook.

The theft of a $60 pocket calculator took place last week in the library of the architectural building on the university campus. Police said that the victim left the calculator on a desk and discovered it missing upon returning a short while later.

A Hightstown woman having car problems Thursday afternoon asked two youths about 19 to check the radiator of her car, parked in the Marquand Park lot. After they left, she discovered her leather purse was missing from the front seat of her car. She lost $25.

Borough police chased three students onto the campus at 2:25 Saturday morning after they had allegedly stolen three plants from in front of the Woolworth store on Nassau Street. All three escaped but police recovered one of the plants that was dropped just behind the campus wall.

Fenwick Plans Open House

Rep. Millicent Fenwick (R-5th Dist.-N.J.) will hold a "town meeting" in Borough Hall from 3 to 5 Saturday.

"Residents of the greater Princeton area have been invited," said Mrs. Fenwick. "I have called this meeting to give people chance to present their opinions, ideas and problems to their representative in Congress."

Postcard notices have been sent to most households in southern Somerset County and the Fifth District portion of Mercer County, but all constituents from the greater Princeton area are invited to come.

The event, which will begin on Saturday in Minuteman Park in Boston, will follow a route through seven states, ending in Washington on May 3.

Each leg of the relay will include two 4-H members dressed in colonial attire and designated as official riders, each carrying a saddlebag containing commemorative letters.

"The purpose of the relay is to dramatize the approach of the Bicentennial", said James Rice, Mercer County 4-H agent.

Princeton Rider. Kim Mount of Princeton will be one of Mercer County's riders, along with Marie Suthers of Hopewell. Other riders are Linda Grace, Karen Baier and Cindi Mahom of Trenton, Kathleen Burd and Leslie Bobik of Lambertville and Cindy Pope of Titusville.

The saddlebags will be picked up by Mercer members Friday, April 25, Hunterdon County at the county line in Hopewell Township. On Saturday morning, riders will leave the Washington Crossing Park and go in two directions--one to meet Pennsylvania riders at the bridge, and the other to go towards Bordentown by way of West Trenton in order to meet the Burlington riders at Crosswicks.

A special ceremony will take place in Washington Crossing Park on Saturday, April 26, at 10:30, arranged by Mrs. Marie Dey of Pennington. At this point in the relay, one rider will continue through Mercer, Burlington and Camden counties, then on to Philadelphia and Washington. The second rider will travel to Valley Forge before heading to the nation's capital.

PLANT A GARDEN

On Township Plots. Last year, there were 11 garden plots, this year there are at least 32, which shows how a garden can grow.

The Princeton Shopping Center, which lent land in '74, is ready to do so again--at least 15 plots, with more added from a corner of Grover Park if demand warrants. This year, there will be a more convenient water supply, reports Township Committee member Elizabeth Hutter, who is master of the gardens for the Township.

Ownership of the Tiger Bus Garage now provides even more space to grow, Mrs. Hutter says. The vacant lot next to the Garage on John Street will provide about 16 plots (20x15 feet). These can

THE PRICES ARE RIGHT, the pools are right and the time is right! You can get a mighty buy on our complete line of Sylvan Mini Pools! For those of you whose backyard isn't big enough to handle a full size Sylvan Pool, or for those who don't care to dive but still enjoy swimming...this sale is for you. It is like none other Sylvan Pools has ever had.

Just look at the dimensions and prices on these pools. You'll have to agree that the only thing that's mini is the cost! During this limited offer you can own a truly fine Sylvan Mini Pool, in a size, shape and price of your choice, built by one of the world leaders in the pool industry, and with a cabana included at no additional cost.

Along with all these money saving features you also get Sylvan's guarantee, the strongest in the industry. We took just a little off the size of our Pools to make them fit your yard, but we took a lot off the price to make it fit your budget. Our Mini Pools are the maxie buy of the year. (And there's nothing mini about the cabana either.)

be subdivided or enlarged, again depending on demand.

This land assays high in cinders and broken glass, but the Township has added six inches of topsoil (cadged from sluggish drainage ditches, according to Mrs. Hutter), a dozen truckloads of leafmold from the Township's leaf dump, and a top dressing of lime.

Last year, vegetable gardeners came to the Shopping Center plant from areas as wide and distant as Einstein Drive, Birch Avenue, Cherry Valley Road and Leigh Avenue.

Anyone, resident of Borough or Township, may sign up for a plot. Applications will be filled on first-come, first-served basis by Denise King, Joint Recreation Department, Valley Road School Building. There will be a $5 fee for a 10x15 foot plot, and $10 for the large, economy family-size plot of 20x15 or more.

Gardeners must be responsible for their own tools, seeds and maintenance, and must clean up in the fall, or forfeit for next year.

$80 IS TAKEN

From Tastebud Luncheonette. Eighty dollars from a cash register and several cartons of cigarettes were stolen last week from the Tastebud Luncheonette, 382 Nassau Street.

Police said that a rear door had been forced between 4:30 last Wednesday afternoon and 7:10 Thursday morning. Sgt. Arthur Gallant is investigating.

Someone unlocked a window to ransack a student's room this week in Lockhart Hall. Police received a report of the entry at 3:26 Sunday morning. Taken were a stereo amplifier valued at $110 and two tickets to a show at McCarter Theatre worth $6.50 each.

Charged with Entering. A Princeton man has been charged with breaking and entering, trespassing and possession of under 25 grams of marijuana following his arrest early Saturday morning on the University campus.

Darrell J. Brooks, 20, 260 John Street, has been issued a complaint summons on each of the charges and ordered to appear in court May 21. He was arrested around 12:30 a.m. by university proctors near Prospect Gardens.

According to police, a university coed noticed a suspect in a hall near her room in Brown Hall. When she entered her room she found that her purse had been stolen. She gave a description of the suspect.

Brooks was observed by the proctors and charged with the entry. All the stolen articles were recovered, police said.

All About Consumer Affairs

WHAT IS A RENT SECURITY DEPOSIT?

A Rent Security Deposit is an amount of money, or other form of security which you deposit when you want to rent a residential unit, with the person who owns or controls the rental unit.

A Rent Security Deposit is held in trust for you, and continues to be your property unless it is used according to the terms of the lease. If not so used, it must be returned to you, with interest.

Your deposit may not be mingled with the funds of the person receiving it, nor does it become an asset of that person.

WHY IS A RENT SECURITY DEPOSIT NECESSARY?

The Security Deposit is primarily to protect the owner of the rental property against:

1. Unpaid rent loss.
2. Damage to the premises by the tenant.

WHEN MAY A SECURITY DEPOSIT BE REQUIRED?

On all residential rental premises, except when owner-occupied with no more than two rental units.

HOW MUCH SECURITY DEPOSIT MAY BE REQUIRED?

The Deposit may not exceed 1 1/2 months rent.

HOW MUST A SECURITY DEPOSIT BE HANDLED?

1. It must be deposited in a banking institution or savings and loan association, insured by an agency of the Federal Government, in an account bearing interest at the rate currently paid by such institutions on time or savings deposits.
2. The person receiving the Deposit must, within 30 days thereafter, notify you of the name and address of the banking institution where the money is held and the amount of the deposit.

If the person receiving the Security Deposit fails to notify you of the name and address of the banking institution within 30 days after receipt of the Security Deposit, you may give written notice to the person holding the Deposit that the money is to be applied to rent payments due, or to become due. You then will have no further Security Deposit obligation for the term of your lease, and the person receiving the Security money cannot make a further demand for a Security Deposit from you.

WHO GETS THE INTEREST EARNED?

One percent per annum of the interest rate shall belong to the holder of the Security Deposit, in lieu of all administrative and custodial expenses, and the remaining interest earned is yours, as a tenant. If the current interest rate were 4 percent, the custodian may keep 1 percent, and you get 3 percent.

WHAT HAPPENS TO SECURITY DEPOSIT AND INTEREST WHEN LEASE EXPIRES?

1. If lease is being renewed your Security Deposit may remain on deposit, but your portion of the interest must be either paid to you or credited to your rent.
2. If lease is not being renewed Security Deposit and your portion of the interest must be returned to you by personal delivery or certified mail within 30 days, minus any charges expended in accordance with the terms of the lease. Any such expenditures shall be itemized and you are entitled to be notified thereof by certified mail.

If you have to go to court for the return of such moneys, the court finding in your favor, shall award recovery of double the amount of said moneys, and costs.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THE PROPERTY OWNERSHIP CHANGES DURING THE TERM OF A LEASE?

The law establishes three alternative procedures which must be followed where a landlord sells, conveys, or assigns property or is subject of a foreclosure action.

CAN RIGHTS BE WAIVED?

"Any provision of such a contract, lease, or agreement whereby a person who so deposits or advances money waives any provision of this act, is absolutely void." In other words, "No."

If you have a consumer problem relating to a Rent Security Deposit, you can write the Mercer County Division of Consumer Affairs, 640 South Broad Street in Trenton or call 989-8000 x615.

SPRING IS FOR BOOKS, BOOKS ARE FOR KIDS: Liza Gilbert (third from left), flanked by the three Crimmins sisters, Page, Tory and Samantha, enjoy a preview of a special Children's Hour to be held Tuesday night of the Bryn Mawr Book Sale next week from 6 to 8. The girls' mothers are Mrs. Michael Graves, director of the sale, and Mrs. James C. Crimmins, president of the Bryn Mawr Club.

BOOK SALE NEARS
By Bryn Mawr Club. Borough Hall will be transformed into a stimulating clutter of books and book-lovers beginning next Wednesday from 12 to 9, as the Bryn Mawr Club opens its annual Book Sale.
Prior to the official opening, children will enjoy a special preview Children's Hour from 6 to 8 on Tuesday.
The sale will continue through Saturday, with hours on Thursday and Friday set from 9 to 9, while Saturday is limited to 9 to 12. On Friday, all books will sell at half price, and on Saturday, books may be carried away in brimming cartons for only a dollar.

PROGRAM PLANNED
On "New Jersey's Riches." The YWCA World Service Committee will hold an International Evening next Friday, April 25, from 8 to 10 with Sybil Groff, author of "New Jersey's Historic Houses - A Guide to Homes Open to the Public," giving an illustrated lecture entitled "Discover New Jersey's Riches."
She will discuss the architecture, history, and decorative arts of historic houses. Dessert and coffee will be served. Admission is free.

SUIT TO BE TRIED
Against University. After hearing pre-trial motions on Monday, County Court Judge Hervey Moore has set May 27 to hear ex-graduate student Lawrence Lavernoich prosecute his own civil conspiracy case against Princeton University officials for having flunked him out of school.
Mr. Lavernoich has filed his $1.5 million suit against the president and board of trustees of Princeton University, who he says "forced him to leave" his Ph.D. graduate studies in the Department of Slavic Languages and Literature in June, 1970.

Mr. Lavernoich, who holds a law degree from Yale University and is a member of the New York State Bar, wants the money for damages he claims he has suffered as a result of being failed on a written test in an area different from what he had been told to study by the department.
At the time, "there was internal trouble in the department", says Mr. Lavernoich, and the requirements were made "stiffer for me because they wanted me out". The department was thereafter disbanded.
Attorneys for the University said in their reply that "any damages sustained by the plaintiff were the result of his failure to meet the requirements for the degrees he was seeking and not the fault of university officials."

CAR, TRAIN COLLIDE
Killing Belle Mead Youth. William F. Armes, 18, of 8 Euclid Avenue, Belle Mead, was killed early Saturday morning when he drove his car into the path of an approaching freight train at a railroad crossing in Manville, police said.
Armes apparently drove through a barrier with flashing lights at 1:47 a.m., according to police. The Lehigh Valley train was headed for the U.S. Army Depot in Belle Mead.

He was taken to Somerset Hospital and died shortly afterwards.
Christine Binkowski, 22, of Steinmetz Road, Belle Mead, a passenger in the car, was also hospitalized. She was reported in fair condition.

Hillsboro High Graduate. Born in East St. Louis, Illinois, Armes moved with his family to Belle Mead from Ohio three years ago. He was a 1974 graduate of Hillsboro High School.
He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferroll Armes Jr.; his sister, Karen, at home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferroll Armes of Washington, Ind., and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bernes, of Greenwood, Ind.
The funeral was held in Washington, Indiana, with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery, Washington.

SIX ARE ARRESTED
During Nursing Home Strike. A strike by 65 aides of the Princeton Nursing Home, 35 Quarry Street, last Wednesday and Thursday, resulted in the arrest of six strikers who were members of Local 1199 of the Drug and Hospital Employees Union.
Only one of the six, Thelma C. Ames, 32 Leigh Avenue, was a Princeton resident. All have been charged with obstructing and interfering and were released in bail. They are scheduled to appear in court May 7. They allegedly tried to interfere with non-union employees attempting to enter the building.

Aides at the 117-patient home were striking for higher wages. Negotiators were reportedly about $10 a week apart in salary talks when pickets first appeared before 7 a.m. last Wednesday. Pickets remained around the clock, police said, until 3:30 Thursday afternoon.
The union's old contract had expired March 31. John W. Francks, administrator of the nursing home, said that about 85 percent of the patients were on Medicare and the home could not offer the workers more money. The union had charged the nursing home with bringing in new workers in an attempt to break the strike. The dispute was settled last week.

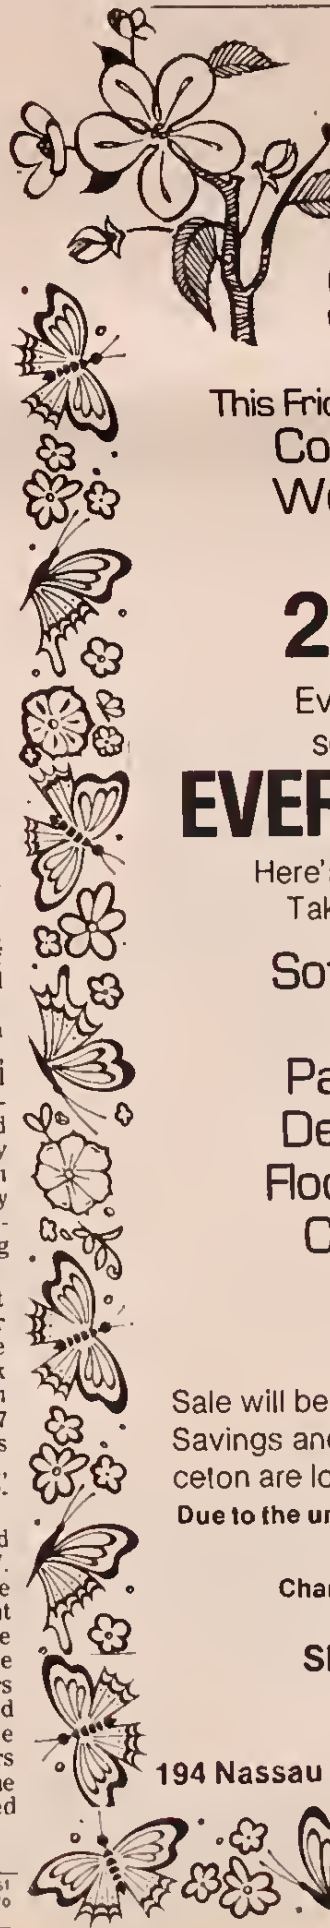

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED
At Stuart. The science laboratories will be part of the guided tours at Stuart Country Day School this Sunday from 2 until 4 when the Spring Open House for prospective students and their parents will be held.
Anyone wishing further information may call Sister Judith Garson, Headmistress, or Mrs. Kenneth Keuffel, Director of Admissions, at 921-2330.

PDS Students Visiting Russia Test Detente and Enjoy Results

Some returned suspecting that a socialist society does work; others felt strongly that it does not. But whatever their political impressions, the 14 students and two chaperones of a two-week Princeton Day School tour to the Soviet Union during late March were almost unanimous in their approval of the trip itself.

WHAT TRIP WOULD BE WITHOUT ONE? Without a group picture that is, along with a smatter of Russian atmosphere and a Russian Intourist guide (in center with white hat). PDS Russian teacher Daniel Skvir's tour group included (kneeling) Ralph Brown, Mrs. Don Cadle, and Sally Silk, plus (standing) Mischka Rizzo (of West Windsor-Plainsboro H.S.), Caron Cadle, Jeff Swisher, Morgan Hite, the gulde, Jon Fabian, Bill Plapinger, Bill McClellan, Pat Slee, Davis Yokona, Celia Manning, Alison Hughes, and Yuki Moore. This picture was taken by Mr. Skvir.

students also rode the memorable Moscow subway and visited the summer palaces of Paul and Catherine in the suburbs of Leningrad.

Other experiences achieved the exotic—a meal in a monastic refectory, a climb into the belfry of an 800-year old cathedral in Novgorod, the 500th performance of the Moscow puppet theater, a hockey game between skating bears at the Moscow circus, and a very brief stay in an isolation cell of the czarist political prison of Leningrad.

Impressed with Detente. Mr. Skvir, who led a similar PDS tour of his Russian language and Russian history students four years ago, noted, "I've come away far more impressed than ever before. There were more smiles, brighter clothing and a lighter atmosphere."

Mr. Skvir, whose grandparents are Russian natives and whose father is a Russian Orthodox clergyman, was also impressed with the apparent workings of detente on the lower levels. He felt that "the cordiality and interest seemed more genuine than four years ago."

He attributed this improved mood to "what is not written in the way of anti-U.S. harangues" in the Russian newspapers. Several students also remarked on the absence of news about the U.S., while agreeing with their teacher that news of the King Faisal assassination "seemed accurately reported," although a couple days late.

The group found western newspapers hard to come by, with the one English language paper that many of the students did find being highly propagandistic.

Propaganda. The students brought home myriad political and cultural impressions. Freshman Morgan Hite thought it was "fantastic to see what could be done when everyone was working together," while noting that the inexpensive price of travel, books and concert performances was an effective propaganda practice.

On the other hand, many of the group deplored the state of the plumbing facilities—in contrast to the thoroughly satisfactory tourist and transportation facilities. And Mrs. Don Cadle, of 237 Wendover Drive, one of the chaperones, noted that "waiting in line is one's most prevalent activity."

Mrs. Cadle also observed "windows open with the heat on," saying "they don't have an energy crisis. They're laughing at us."

Another student, junior Davis Yokona, criticized "the miles and miles of hovels in the countryside," an observation countered by freshman Jon Fabian, who said, "look inside our own cities." In the end, they both agreed that "what you see is a lot of propaganda," whether it be socialist ideology in Russian or American advertising here.

school six days a week, study ten subjects per semester, and had studied seven years of English by the age of 16.

"They spoke English very, very well," commented one student, as did Alla Fedotova, the same Intourist guide who accompanied Mr. Skvir's last tour group. With such excellent English at hand, "one doesn't get to use Russian as much as one would hope," Mr. Skvir lamented.

First-Hand Education. Even though their language use was limited to personal adventures in stores and commercial bartering, the students felt the trip was tremendously educational, especially since many of them are also taking Mr. Skvir's Russian history class.

Morgan Hite said, "I learned more about architecture, art and the church than ever before," while Jon Fabian commented on the endless amount of history he understood "during the long stretches of nothing between towns when the guide just kept talking."

And of course, the students' cultural anecdotes were unforgettable.

Forewarned by their teacher to bring plenty of chewing gum for trading purposes, the students discovered, said Fabian that, "one of the best things about

Use of Bicentennial Logo Urged

The Princeton Bicentennial Committee has granted automatic permission to all members of the community to use the official Princeton Bicentennial Logo on all items not intended for sale. This logo, an artist's rendering of the Mercer Oak, surrounded by 13 stars, is a trademark owned by Princeton Borough and Princeton Township.

It is hoped that the logo will be used widely in such items as personal and business letters, official documents, retail newspaper ads and store windows, and by schools and organizations in order to publicize the bicentennial events in Princeton. A sheet containing the Bicentennial Logo in various sizes can be purchased for $1 at Hinkson's, 82 Nassau Street. Proceeds will go to the Princeton Community Bicentennial Committee.

Russia was trading gum for Znachki," which are handsome lapel pins representing clubs, towns, ships, and political herus such as Lenin.

99 Sticks of Gum. Fabian, who brought with him 99 sticks, discovered that "Bazooka is the most popular," even without which he was able to acquire 33 pins in trade. He said that two sticks of the precious gum, not made or sold in Russian, garnered a pin worth 50 cents in local currency.

For trading and shopping, Mr. Skvir said "we were quite free to wander on our own." But they quickly learned, said Hite, that "selling blue jeans is illegal." Apparently the badge of Western youth is looked upon sternly by Russian authorities.

But the authorities did allow an orange and black scarf, colors rarely seen in Russia, to enter the country. Mr. Skvir spotted the scarf on a stranger in a Novgorod museum, and being himself a 1966 graduate of Princeton University, he was curious enough to tap the man's shoulder.

The orange and black-clad stranger proved to be a man who had sat next to young Dan Skvir 13 years before as freshmen in a Russian 101 class at Princeton. He was now leading an identical tour through the Soviet Union of Russian students from Trinity College. Small world?

CANDIDATES' NIGHT SET
By Princeton Democrats. The Princeton Community Democratic Organization will hold a candidates' night next Wednesday at 8 in the Princeton Unitarian Church.

Lucy MacKenzie, a candidate for Assembly, Joseph Tighue and John Watson, Freeholder candidates, and those running for borough and township offices will present their views on the problems and prospects for their respective electoral spheres.

The problems of state taxation and electoral law reform, combined with new challenges posed by the creation of a county executive in Mercer County, will all be discussed.

AGENDA BRIEF

In Township. A light agenda faces Township Committee for its 8 p.m. meeting Monday night in township Hall.

The $330,000 ordinance for improving the north side of Community Park will be up for hearing, and so will the annual salary ordinance, and the land-subdivision ordinance with its correction of the cluster zoning requirements.

Committee will hold a hearing on sidewalk assessments for the new Snowden Lane installations. The resignation of William Starr as a member of the Joint Transportation Committee will be received. Mr. Starr was recently named to the Sewer Operating Committee and has asked to be relieved of the Transportation appointment.

BEFORE ZONING BOARD

Historic House. In the 18th-century, you built your house on your land and that was it. Variances, yard-height ratios and the like were unknown.

Today, the Princeton Historical Society must go the zoning route for a buyer interested in the old house moved last summer from Alexander Street to a new home on Basin Street. The Township Zoning Board will hear details at its meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

Because the old house is now in the Education-2 zone where a one-acre plot for houses is required, it must have a lot-size variance. It rests on 13,600 square feet and the ordinance requires 43,500. Also, since the lot is 80 feet wide and the ordinance requires 150, a variance is needed there, too.

The prospective owner, William van Oehsen, plans a two-story addition, and that means a variance from the yard-height ratio requirement of 1½-1. With the addition, the ratio will be 1-1.

TO HONOR OFFICERS

At League Meeting. The Princeton Area League of Women Voters will hold its annual meeting at 6 next Wednesday at All Saints Church. A meatless gourmet meal provided by the members will be served. Past Presidents of the Princeton League from 1935 to 1973 will be honored.

Those attending will be Lenore Danielson, Ruth Cherniss, Mary Tanner, Barbara Schwarzchild, Bettie Schrader, Hazel Benjamin and Margaret Sprout. Special mention will be made of Helen Fairbanks and Elizabeth Fine for many years of service.

The business meeting will begin at 8. A new board of directors and officers will be elected. Elaine Bezilla, the president, will preside.

Construction Starts on Mercer Mall on U.S. 1; Initial Stage Is Set for Opening Late This Year

BUSINESS

In and Around Princeton

The new Mercer Mall, located at the southwest corner of U.S. Route 1 and Province Line Road in Lawrence Township, has begun construction, with opening scheduled for late this year. The Mall will include approximately 200,000 square feet of retail space in its main building and the free-standing theater and bank buildings. Centralized parking facilities will accommodate 1,500 cars.

The National State Bank of Trenton will occupy a free-standing building for full commercial banking services, with direct access from Province Line Road for its drive-up teller facilities.

General Cinema Corp., the nation's largest motion picture exhibiting firm, will operate a 1,300-seat three-auditorium movie theater, Cinema I-II-III, in another free-standing building. It will feature "first-run" motion pictures.

Bristol Development Corp., with headquarters at 505 Park Avenue in New York City, will operate as well as develop Mercer Mall, a policy it has followed in its other 15 shopping centers located throughout the Northeast. Lawrence H. Furman of New York City is the architect for Mercer Mall and the general contractor is Peter J. Saker, Inc. of Freehold.

Information on availability of space may be obtained by calling Ira Jay Mitchell, director of leasing for Bristol, at 800-221-2010 (toll free) or writing him at Bristol's New York office.

Mercer Mall will feature a contemporary rustic design with wood beams and planking in a varied pattern as the facing of its principal square feet and an A & P structures. An exterior canopy of wooden beams with a tongue-in-groove wood-planked ceiling will augment the appearance while also providing protection for the entire Village, comprised of 35 length of the L-shaped main building.

Kresge, A & P Coning, A K mart department store (a division of the S.S. Kresge Company) occupying 84,180 square feet and an A & P Supermarket of 34,500 square feet will flank approximately 50 retail units in the main building which will also feature an enclosed mini-mall, providing protection for called "Province Line Village," comprised of 35 specialty shops or boutiques and personal service centers.

EARNINGS MIXED
At United Jersey Banks, United Jersey Banks, parent company of First National Bank of Princeton, reported that income before securities transactions declined for the quarter ended March 31 to $.41 per share from $.48 per share for the similar 1974 period.

However, due to gains on the sales of securities of $145,000, net income rose to $.44 per share for the first quarter of 1975 compared with $.41 per share reported through March 31, 1974. Hence, total net income rose from $2,181,000 to $2,364,000 for the quarter.

Edward A. Jesser, Jr., UJB Chairman, stated that "Due to recent declines in money market rates, the holding company has been experiencing a favorable trend in the interest spread between earning assets and interest sensitive sources of funds."

"However," he added, "the gains resulting from this trend were more than offset by increases in non-interest expenses." These expenses included inflation and the costs of opening nine new UJB branches during 1974.

Reserve Upped. Mr. Jesser also noted that the loan loss reserve for the first three months of 1975 exceeded first quarter, 1974 provisions by $606,000.

At the same time, management efforts to increase retail time deposits produced a net inflow of over $41 million since year-end, 1974. Over-all, consolidated deposits rose 3.8 percent during the 12 months ended March 31.

INCOME PLUMMETS

At Applied Data Research, Inc., of Princeton, reported that its net earnings, including an extraordinary item, fell for the year ended December 31 to $.04 per share from $.89 per share a year earlier, even though sales increased almost 10 percent to $11,888,567.

The decline resulted from unprofitable operations in the Control Systems Division and the Time Sharing Division, plus a one-time extraordinary charge of $411,469 against 1974 earnings. The extraordinary item reflects a change in accounting method on prior years relating to revenue recognition, giving the company a more conservative posture.

These earnings erosions were only partially offset by the record revenue and income performance of the Software Products Division in both domestic and overseas markets. Software product sales increased about 36 percent to $6.5 million.

President John R. Bennett explained that the sales decline of $385,000 by the Control Systems Division was due to budget reductions instituted by public utilities and common carriers which are major markets for the division's telephone workforce management system. He said the Time Sharing Division was adversely affected by "severe price competition and the loss of one large customer".

EARNINGS ARE UP

At Base Ten Systems, Net earnings for 1974 at Base Ten Systems, Quaker Bridge Road, Trenton, have jumped from $.29 per share in 1973 to $.41 per share for 1974.

The earnings total of $124,081 includes an extraordinary item of an income tax benefit of $32,400 obtained from utilization of the net operating loss carryforward, reported President Myles M. Kranzler.

Softball Dates Changed.

The Princeton Softball Tournament, originally scheduled for May 3-4 at Community Park, has been rescheduled for May 17 and 18. Sixteen teams will compete in the double elimination tournament, the first time such an event has been held in Princeton. All adult softball teams in the area are invited to enter. Those interested should call Jim Pirone at 921-8424.

hot right now" following a defeat of Lawrenceville. "They're going to be tough," Clifton, he said, should have a big team and PDS is undefeated in its first three games.

PHS took a 2-0 lead against Peddie but Cirullo said that the play of the Little Tigers deteriorated after that and accelerated in the second half. What has him even more concerned is the loss of middy Kevin Syberg.

Syberg was hit by a vicious crossblock--almost blindsided--in the first period and carried off the field on a stretcher. He was treated at Princeton Medical Center for two cracked ribs and will be lost for three weeks.

"That hurt us very badly," said Cirullo. "We're very slender as it is; a few more key injuries and we're really going to be hurting. We've only played three games but I feel as if we've played eleven."

Mace Mohrman scored two of Princeton's goals against Peddie--his first of the season--

PRO SOCCER SATURDAY

In Palmer Stadium. Professional soccer will come to Palmer Stadium for the first time when North American Soccer League rivals the New York Cosmos and the Philadelphia Atoms play Saturday at 3. The contest will be the second half of a doubleheader that will also feature the New Jersey State Junior Amateur championship game between Trenton and Elizabeth at 1.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate. Adult tickets are $2, students $1. For additional ticket information, call Princeton soccer coach Bill Muse at 452-4977.

Livingston Here Monday. Peddie outscored the visiting Princeton High School lacrosse team, 7-1, in the second half Monday to go on to win its second game of the season in four starts, 9-3.

For the Little Tigers, it was their second straight loss after an opening win. They will be at Clifton Friday and entertain Livingston Monday at 4 on the PHS football field. On Wednesday, they will take the short trip across town to play Princeton Day School at 3:30.

Livingston, observed PHS coach Bill Cirullo, "is running

Construction of the Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library of Princeton University will begin in May or June, with occupancy scheduled for the fall of 1976.

The $2.5 million facility will be built on Olden Street across from the Engineering Quadrangle. A leadership grant of $1,125,000 from the Seeley G. Mudd Fund made possible the start of construction. An additional $525,000 has since been raised from other donors.

The Library will house the personal papers and files of many great figures of twentieth-century America: James Forrestal, Bernard Baruch, Adlai Stevenson, and Justice John Harlan, to name a representative few. The University holdings, which are considered the equal of any non-governmental collection, are used extensively by faculty members, students, and scholars from all over this country and abroad.

A two-story building of about 31,000 square feet will be constructed which will contain special stacks for the storage of both bound and loose papers, study carrels, office space for visiting scholars, and a conference area, in addition to the usual office and work space for library staff.

The Library will be constructed of brick on a reinforced concrete frame, with windows limited to the public and staff areas. The stack vault will be entirely enclosed to reduce energy consumption. The building is the first to be designed under a new energy conservation program adopted by the University.

Construction of the Library will require the demolition of a two-family house at 65-67 Olden Street and will reduce the capacity of the University parking lot between Olden and Charlton Streets. Replacement parking spaces and new spaces to meet the requirements of the new building have already been added to the University parking system by the construction of a lot behind the former Cannon Club. Selection of the site for the building was dictated by the planned extension of a major pedestrian path, McCosh walk, from the Woodrow Wilson Plaza to the Engineering Quadrangle.

Hugh Stubbins and Associates of Cambridge, Massachusetts, is the architect for the building. Humphreys and Harding, a New York City construction firm, has been hired to build the facility.

and Alex Kinnan scored the other. After some sloppy play on both sides in the first half, Cirullo reported that "Peddie was able to put it all together in the third quarter. 'We didn't do anything-which I don't understand. Usually, we get better as the game goes on.'"

The two goals by Mohrman, one of the leading scorers last year, was encouraging, however. Mohrman had been content to assist and feed off this season, Cirullo said, "and I'm trying to turn him around."

AUTOGRAPH PARTY SET
With Author of "Secretariat", Titles Unlimited, the bookstore in the Montgomery Shopping Center, has extended an invitation to the public to attend an autograph party this Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30 with Raymond Woolfe, author of "Secretariat" and resident of 372 Carter Road.

Mr. Woolfe, who is a sports photographer for the Daily Racing Form and a writer, published his book last fall to outstanding reviews. "The Maryland Horse" called it "THE book about THE horse" and a "stunning publication".

Audax Minor in The New Yorker of November 18 wrote, "the first entry for this department's Christmas book list, 'Secretariat', arrived last week and it's a delight—either to read or just to look at the pictures".

The book store is also accepting advance orders from those unable to attend. Copies at $15 will be reserved and autographed to the person of one's choice.

TAILGATE BAKE SET
Throughout W. Windsor. The Association of the Twin W First Aid Squad, Inc. of West Windsor Township is holding its annual "Tailgate Bake Sale" on Saturday, from 10 until 1. Members of the Association are baking cookies, cakes, pies and breads which will be available at residents' doors throughout the community.

The members will drive station wagons through the various areas of West Windsor ringing doorbells and offering their wares for sale.

All proceeds will be used to purchase equipment for the Twin W First Aid Squad, Inc., a completely volunteer organization supplying first aid and ambulance services to the residents of West Windsor Township.

BIRTH DEFECTS?

Parent Group to Meet. A March of Dimes film, "Marty Mim Mack," about a disabled child, will be shown next Wednesday, April 23, at the next meeting of Parent to Parent, a group of parents whose children have birth defects. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the activities room at Merwick, 79 Bayard Lane.

Following the film, those at the meeting will be invited to inspect a new brochure and make suggestions on how it might best be circulated to reach other parents who could benefit from membership in the group.

Parent to Parent, a new pilot program, is sponsored by the National Foundation - March of Dimes. One feature of the program is "visiting parents," who have been screened by clinical psychologists, available to talk to parents of children with birth defects.

Additional information about the group is available by writing Mercer County March of Dimes, 831 Parkway Avenue, Trenton, or calling 882-3543.

EXHIBIT TO OPEN

Exhibiting Artist to Talk. Opening Monday at Princeton Public Library will be an exhibit of tapestries, woven by Canadian artist Suzanne Guite.

Madame Guite, whose work was shown at the library of Douglass College last winter, was born in Quebec's Gaspé Peninsula, where she has spent much of her life as a sculptor of wood and stone.

A student of Moholy-Nagy, Archipenko, and Brancusi, she founded, with her husband, the Italian painter Alberto Tommi, the Perce Art Center, which she has directed since his death in 1959. Her work is represented in the Museum of Quebec and in the National Gallery of Canada, the United States and Europe.

Madame Guite will discuss her tapestries at the library at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

PHS DANCE PLANNED

For Staff and Community. Using a motif of "Let's Dance," the Princeton High School Committee has announced plans for a second staff-community dance to be held on Friday, May 2, at 9 in the large gym at the high school. It is open to all.

Jack Horner's band will be the featured attraction, complemented by special decorations, refreshments and entertainment.

Tickets at $2.50 per person can be purchased at Hinkson's and at the University Store, as well as at the door.

You don't expect a sportscar with a worldwide reputation for performance to be economical. But it's true. The mid-engine Porsche 914 2.0 gets an incredible 30 miles* to the gallon, uses regular gas, and gets enough mileage from one tankful to take you over 490 miles. So, on top of unique Porsche handling, superb engineering, and roomy comfort, you can add economy. The Porsche 914 2.0. It will always be more than you expect.

News Of The CHURCHES

AUCTION PLANNED

Annual Unitarian Event. The Unitarian Church will sponsor its annual Auction, Etc., on Saturday, April 26, from 10 to 4, featuring an auction inside the church auditorium and a wide variety of "etc." outdoors on the church grounds.

The auction, lasting all day, will feature both old and brand new items, with prices varying to satisfy the budgets of young people as well as collectors.

Other all-day activities (indoors and out) will include an art gallery, plant tables for indoor and outdoor gardeners with plants priced from 25 cents up, a silent services auction (babysitting for a weekend, etc.), and a gigantic flea market. There will also be a clothes horse featuring new and outgrown items mostly priced for $1 or less, plus sports equipment, books and records, toys and stationery.

The kids will also be able to enjoy an outdoor midway featuring games and amusements, plus a spookhouse. And families will have a choice of home-made foods, including gourmet specialties, all prepared and sold from the church kitchen.

A major portion of the proceeds will go to various humanitarian projects in Princeton and the surrounding communities. Babysitting is provided with adult supervision.

ANTIQUES OFFERED

At Methodist Show. The United Methodist Women of the Methodist Church of Cranbury will sponsor their annual Antiques Show and Sale on Saturday, April 26, from 10 to 5 with free babysitting provided for children under ten.

During the show, artists will periodically demonstrate various craft skills, including cooking, decoupage, crocheting, beading, leatherwork, greeting card placements, quilting for picture-framing, crewel embroidery, and macrame patterns.

There will also be a bake sale, a flower shop, and a snack bar. Twenty antique dealers from New Jersey and Pennsylvania will display their varied collections.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Episcopal Church Women of Trinity Church, Rocky Hill, will hold their annual smorgasbord supper next Saturday, April 26, from 4:30 to 7:30 in the Parish Hall. The meal will feature more than 15 different salads, plus stuffed cabbage, swedish meat balls, lasagna, ham and roast beef. Tickets at $3.95 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12 may be reserved by calling 921-9217 or 201-359-6581.

The annual rummage sale of the Harlingen Reformed Church will be held in the Church House on Route 206 next Friday, April 25, from 9 to 7:30 and Saturday from 9 to 3. From noon to 2, all the goods one can stuff in a bag will be sold for $1, followed by a children's penny sale from 2 to 3. Rummage contributions will be received next Wednesday and Thursday, or picked up by calling 359-5295 or 359-3556.

The Kingston Presbyterian Church will present a program this Sunday at 7 of Christian folk-singing, preceded by a fellowship supper at 5:30. The singer will be Beth Whalley from Ocean Grove. Reservations for the supper should be made by calling 921-8895, and the public is invited to the concert.

NO, THE GIRLS AREN'T ON THE AUCTION BLOCK: But most everything else will be, as Laurie and Jill Carberry display a poster announcing Auction, Etc., to be held at Princeton Unitarian Church on Saturday, April 26, from 10 to 4.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Lottie W. Morgan, 89, of North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, died April 10 in Princeton Nursing Home.

Born in Hamilton Township, she resided there until moving to Hopewell 22 years ago.

Wife of the late George Morgan, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John Dalasscak of Hopewell; two sons, Warren of Livermore, Calif., and G. Clifton of Melbourne Beach, Fla.; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Hamilton Square, with burial in Greenwood Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the memorial fund of the Hamilton Square Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Clara Maul, 96, of Opossum Road, Skillman, died April 10 in Lawrenceville Nursing Home.

Born in Austria-Hungary, she had lived in Trenton since 1904 before moving to Skillman six years ago.

Wife of the late George Maul, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Anna Randow of Trenton and Mrs. Claire Ford of Skillman; one son, George of Quebec, Canada; eight grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Trenton with interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Lillian V. Lechner, 73, of 23 Vander Veer Drive, Lawrenceville, died April 11 at Mercer Medical Center.

A former executive secretary in the motion picture business, she was born in Pennsylvania and lived most of her life in New Rochelle, N.Y., before moving to Lawrenceville two years ago.

She is survived by her husband, Barnard J. Lechner; a son, Bernard J. Lechner; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Nahas of Snuth Bend, Indiana; a brother, Thomas Stevens of New York; and two grandchildren.

The funeral was held in New Rochelle. Contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society or the American Red Cross.

TO HONOR VOLUNTEERS

At Medical Center. Ten Princeton residents will receive awards for their service to The Medical Center at Princeton during National Volunteer Week, April 20-26.

These women, who have reached the 1,000-hour mark in service, will be recognized by 82 other Princeton Volunteers who are members of the Thousand Hour Club at a tea to be held in the main hospital meeting room at 3 next Thursday.

The tea, plus an annual meeting, and display of original art and craftwork by Volunteers are part of festivities scheduled at The Medical Center to recognize over 50,000 hours of service donated by the 642 volunteers over the past year. All of the men, women, and young people who assist the patients and staff of The Medical Center are invited to the annual meeting for volunteers on Tuesday evening at 8 in the hospital meeting room.

Volunteers receiving 1000-Hour Awards are: Mrs. Robert Bancroft, Mrs. James Clapp, Mrs. Amos Eno, Mrs. Moore Gates, Jr., Mrs. Karl Illava, Mrs. Henry Martin, Mrs. Robert D. Murray, Mrs. R. Rutherford, Mrs. Albert Sorina, and Mrs. J. Taylor Woodward.

500 Mark. Other Princeton volunteers who have reached the 500-hour mark are Mrs. Henry Bach, Mrs. J.J. Bates, Mrs. A.S. Blodgett, Jr., Francis Bushnell, James G. Campbell, Jr., Miss Esther Dilworth, Mrs. William Flagg, Mrs. Victor L. Jameson, Robert Lechner, Frank F. Mountcastle, Mrs. Richard Poole, Mrs. Dierdre Randall, Mrs. John Rhoades, Mrs. Basil Robinson and Herbert C. Sturhahn.

Mrs. Deborah Livingston, Director of Volunteer Services, indicated that there are still many opportunities for volunteers. "In particular, we need help with the patient programs at Merwick," she said. "Our volunteers there find it very rewarding to watch the progress of a rehabilitation patient, or to brighten up the days of an older person receiving long-term care."

Mrs. Livingston also noted that the Junior Volunteer program (formerly called "candy strippers") will soon offer young men and women fifteen and over the opportunity to spend meaningful summer hours helping patients and staff and learning about health care procedures. Information about both the junior and adult volunteer programs is available by calling the Volunteer Office at 921-7700, extension 235 between 8:30 and 5.

ITEMS SOLICITED

For Garage Sale. The West Windsor Republican Club will hold a Garage, Plant and Bake Sale on Saturday, May 31, at the Dey Farm on Princeton-Hightstown Road across from Acme Market.

The club is seeking donations of house and garden plants, baked goods, furniture, books, clothes, china and other household goods. Those having any saleable items to contribute may contact any club member or call 799-1358 or 799-0911 for free pick-up or the location of collection points.

CLASSES SCHEDULED

In Needlework. The second series of classes in creative needlework are being scheduled by the Historical Society. Mrs. Muriel Bishop, who had an exhibit at the Society in January, will again teach the classes.

Each session is eight weeks long and costs $30. Classes are limited to ten so that there is individual supervision. Instruction will be given on Wednesday mornings and Friday afternoons.

For further information, call the Historical Society at 921-6748. Reservations may be made by sending a check to the Society at 158 Nassau Street.

FENWICK BACKS CAUSE

On Eve of Nader Speech. With Ralph Nader coming to Alexander Hall next Wednesday at 8 to speak on "The Nuclear Power Gamble", the Citizens Committee for Responsible Power Policies, sponsors of the lecture, have received a letter from U.S. Rep. Millicent Fenwick indicating her support of the same anti-nuclear objectives.

Like Mr. Nader, Mrs. Fenwick supports a proposed moratorium on the construction of nuclear power plants until a comprehensive and independent five-year study is completed. She has become a co-sponsor of a bill to that end, while also sponsoring a bill forbidding the sale of plutonium from spent nuclear reactor fuel.

Mrs. Fenwick informed Laura Schleyer, 18 Wheat-sheaf Lane, of the Citizens Committee in a letter that, "I believe these bills place the proper restraint on the use of nuclear energy. As of right now, that form of energy is too dangerous to be used without very careful study."

She continued, "alternative forms of energy such as solar, and geo-thermal, must be explored". She then indicated that she is also co-sponsoring a bill that would give government loans to homeowners who use solar energy in their homes.

Calculated Gamble. The Citizens Committee says that Nader regards the proliferation of nuclear power plants as a calculated gamble. Mr. Nader has stated, "nuclear power is a technology that demands human and mechanical infallibility, a level of perfection never yet attained by mankind".

Besides warning of a catastrophic accident, Mr. Nader continued, "It is a technology that will require a mini-garrison state to safeguard its transportation, its reactors, its waste disposal; we will have to have elaborate personnel security checks, invasion of privacy, and a massive accumulation of dossiers to make sure that everybody who deals with it is beyond suspicion."

Mr. Nader's speech is open to the public.

Hours: Monday thru Friday 8:30-5, Sat 8:30-1

212 Alexander St., Princeton 924-1881

The exterior of this rambling charmer, nestled into a hillside among tall trees, doesn't give a clue to the appeal of the unique interior. The welcoming entrance hall opens on a fascinating living room—large, light and lovely with cathedral ceiling, open beams, rough plaster walls, quarry tile floor, fireplace and bookshelves—a delightful dining room, and a nice guestroom. Living and dining rooms and an enchanting brick-floored library overlook the flagstone terrace, post and rail fenced lawn, natural planting and big woods, as does the big master bedroom with its glass wall, lined with a wrought iron fence (typical of the imaginative decorative touches throughout). Two more cozy bedrooms, bath and laundry are tucked away behind the truly spectacular kitchen, with its modern working space and separate skylighted sitting room complete with Delft tile bordered fireplace! Close to town on nearly an acre of seclusion. $125,000

LAND, LOTS OF LAND: Twenty nine acres in prime Lawrence township location. Road frontage, water and sewer adjacent. Trees, fields, and a running brook. Owner will consider subdivision. Offered at $8,500 per acre.

Beden's Brook Road

On a winding country road is a brand new brick & cedar shake colonial. There is a large living room, dining room, a den with a fireplace & sliding doors to a terrace. Upstairs, the master suite includes a dressing room & bath, as well as 3 other bedrooms and 2 baths. There is a partially finished room (12' x 23 6') over the garage with heat and electricity. An excellent house for $93,500

West Windsor. There is a really large home waiting for spring occupancy in this convenient neighborhood. Bright and airy, it includes a living room, family room with fireplace and den, formal dining room, eat-in kitchen, separate laundry, 5 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. There is special recessed lighting throughout and many other outstanding features in this well constructed house offered at $77,900

Lawrenceville. On a wooded lot, this charming four bedroom colonial has a sunny terrace and garden. The excellent floor plan gives a spacious feeling throughout with its large bright living room, formal dining room and well planned kitchen. Additionally, there is a beamed family room with a raised brick fireplace and sliding doors to the terrace, a paneled den, separate laundry and powder room. Other fine decorative details include the brick floored entrance hall and carpeting in the living room, stairs & upstairs hall. Call us now to see this special house. $89,000

Lawrence. This uniquely designed ranch abounds in activity areas for the whole family. Central air-conditioning, wall to wall carpeting and a private back yard with professional landscaping are just a few of the "extras" that make this three bedroom, two bath home an unusually attractive offering. $49,900

Princeton Near Lake Carnegie on a well planted lot is a 3 bedroom house in excellent condition. It features a large bluestone terrace leading to an entrance foyer, a living room with fireplace, a dining room and kitchen. There is a lower level with a study, playroom and laundry and storage area with a separate outside entrance. Extras include wall to wall carpeting in the living room and dining room. $69,500.

Lawrence (Princeton address.) This wonderfully constructed ranch of stone & stucco has to be seen to appreciate all its unique qualities. Located near town but on a country lane, the house offers a large living room with a high ceiling, a dining room, a kitchen equipped with every convenience, a small den plus a recently added garden room with sliding doors to the terrace. Add to this, three bedrooms including a spacious master suite and two and a half baths, and you have an excellent value at $88,000

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

Brookstone. Large, low and liveable - one floor living is always convenient and this particular ranch has loads of room. Large squarish entry hall, elegant stepdown living room, separate dining room, convenient kitchen, study or maid's room and bath. Bedroom wing with master suite with bath and four other bedrooms and a bath and a half. Huge lower level recreation room, screen porch, balcony-deck. 3 car garage. $118,500

This tudor, formerly part of a great estate, has unusual charm, strength and liveability. A reception hall opens to a long bright living room with fireplace and leaded windows looking to the west. Adjacent is a separate dining room with doors to a raised terrace. The kitchen has just been modernized with new cabinets and appliances including six burner restaurant type range. Off the kitchen, there is a comfortable panelled study, bar, lavatory and laundry room. On the second floor, four bedrooms, three baths, office or nursery plus a separate bedroom and bath for servants or income. Brick garage and garden house. All on almost a acre with a walled garden at the back. $142,500

Jefferson Road. Our newest listing. A most convenient family location -- walk to grammar and high school, municipal swimming and tennis. Versatile multi-level house with five bedrooms and three baths. Spacious living room 15 x 25 with fireplace, separate dining room, convenient kitchen, family room, and playroom. Screened porch and patio. Central air. Two-car garage with automatic door opener. $105,000

Pretty Brook Road and North Road. Rarely is land available in this pretty and special part of Princeton Township. Now we have a two acre lot part open and part in woods with a gentle slope which will accommodate various styles of architecture. $68,000

Hardy Drive — Near the Stuart School a 2.1 acre lot with huge forest trees on a quiet dead end cul de sac. Can be built on with a closed system until moratorium is lifted. $42,000.

Battle Road—This sturdy brick Tudor with slate roof and interesting half timber motif fits perfectly on this quiet sycamore lined Township street. Flagstone entry and center hall. Cypress panelled living room and dining rooms, small study, sunporch, kitchen. Five bedrooms, three baths, plus finished room and storage on third. Two car garage, new furnace. Lovely half acre lot with mature plantings. $138,500

Edgerstone - Two and one half acres which will delight and challenge your architect. Huge forest trees, rhododendrons, frontage on Stony Brook, steep slopes. $42,500

Exceptional Williamsburg Colonial with gracious rambling architecture - every feature imaginable. Step down living room, study, dining room, kitchen, first floor master bedroom suite. Five bedrooms, three baths on second. Recreation room, billiard room, wine cellar, 3 half baths, 3 fireplaces, greenhouse. Most sophisticated heating and air conditioning systems plus burglar and fire alarms. Space for 5 cars in two garages. More than four acres in Pretty Brook area of Princeton Twp. with pond, stream, and extensive landscaping. $300,000

Stuart Road - Living in and around this spectacular contemporary has to be a daily adventure. Stroll across the entry bridge—four acres of glacial rock and forest trees blend marvelously with the natural finish and clean lines of the house. From the entry level with its private guest room and full bath, step into the living room and feel the light and height of the room—almost three stories tall. A few steps up from the living room is a comfortable family room with fireplace and bar, an adjoining dining room, and a fine spacious kitchen. The children's area has four bedrooms or three and a playroom, plus two baths. The master suite has a dressing room, full bath, and adjoining study. A third floor sun room, lots of glass, and numerous decks and balconies provide different views of the outside at every turn. Zoned air conditioning, fire and burglar alarms, two-car garage. $265,000

Handsome Colonial on Balcort Drive in Princeton Township. Perfectly arranged for entertaining and comfortable family living are: large entrance hall, formal living and dining rooms, and wonderful high-ceilinged library with fireplace. Well planned kitchen with breakfast area, laundry, den, full bath, new bedroom and playroom complete the ground floor. Upstairs, an enormous master bedroom with adjacent dressing room and bath, plus three other bedrooms and bath. Screened porch, basement and attic. 1½ wooded acres. Available early summer $850 per month

can you find
In 1764 Princeton University commissioned Dawkins to make a lithograph of Nassau Hall and the President's House for the brochure for prospective students. Hard to find but two appeared a few days ago, probably due to people evaluating centennial material. Have mislaid the lady's name who asked us to search for one. Hopefully she will see this. We also have George Bradshaw's Nassau Hall and the Statehouse.

Large framed proof engraving. Signing of the Declaration of Independence by John Trumbull.

Gilbert Stuart's portraits of George and Martha Washington. Painted in oils, these are actually prints, documented by a letter from the Honorable Edward Everett, Gov. of Massachusetts, 1860 saying "Well done in true and faithful colors." They have the appearance of oil paintings on canvas and only on careful analysis was the true story discovered. They come from the Matthews estate here in Princeton.

Washington Irving's "Rip Van Winkle", a first, illustrated by Everett Shinn. Believe this to be a real find.

French 18th century andirons, for smallest fireplace, found 18th century tongs to match. Coin silver punch ladle, large coin berry spoon and sugar tongs.

Hanes horse collar mirror, saddle bags, stirrups and bits.

"You are a King by your own fireside, as much as any Monarch in his Throne."

The fireplace in this hundred year old house is only one of the attractions of a truly charming home. It has as well: an entrance hall, small morning room, a lovely dining room, kitchen, powder room, and a study which is a newer addition complete with built-in bookshelves. There are four or five bedrooms on the second floor, depending on how you want to count. The basement has a semi-finished playroom with fireplace as well as a laundry room.

And when the warm days of spring, summer and autumn are upon us, there is a delightful, walled flag-stone terrace for al fresco living among majestic trees.

We invite your inspection of this quietly situated (across from Herrontown Woods), unusual house on 1.44 acres. Additional contiguous land is available. Only ten minutes to Palmer Square.

"Decadent, Dissonant Compositions of Ultra-Modern Writers" Cause for Concern when University Concerts Began in 1890s

Kid-gloved hands make a polite patter of applause in the late afternoon sunshine and taffeta skirts are a rustling obligato as the finale of a Haydn quartet draws the concert to its close.

It has been another afternoon with the Kneisel Quartet in the drawing rooms of the recently completed Princeton Inn on Stockton Street—another concert presented by the Ladies' Music Committee, diligent to the cause of good music in Princeton, devoted to their leader, Philena Fobes Fine. The concerts had begun only recently, on October 29, 1894, and already were a feature of winter afternoons in Princeton.

This spring, the Princeton University Concerts as they are now known, are ending their 80th season. Today, as in 1895, they offer the finest music to the Princeton community and today, exactly as in 1895, there isn't any good concert hall to contain them. (Misha Elman complained in the 1930s about Alexander Hall. McCosh 50 had such bad lighting that chandeliers were fitted with rows of ruffles to protect the eyes of the audience. The Old Chapel, now the Student Center, had hard pews.)

Programs from the first two seasons have vanished, even from memories. The oldest program in existence, now in the files of the University concert office, presented the Kneisel Quartet on Monday December 7, 1896, at 3 p.m. in University Hall, as the old Princeton Inn came to be called. Borough Hall now stands on the site.

There was the premiere of a quartet by George W. Chadwick, the Schumann Quartet in A Minor, Opus 41, No. 1, and Carl von Dittersdorf's Quartet in E-flat major.

MUSIC FROM LONG AGO: The gentle lines of art nouveau invite the music-lover to this Princeton concert, given in 1905. The Princeton University Concerts are now ending their 80th year.

"We View with Alarm." "We do not care for the ultra-modern music," was the stern word of Professor Andrew West in a letter written to arrange a concert date with the Kneisel group. Not long after, he wrote, "We are anxious to avoid the decadent and dissonant compositions of the ultra-modern writers."

Among these decadents he included Smetana, and indignantly scratched from a program the quartet "Aus meinen Leben." "The quartet by Smetana we have had before," he wrote darkly, "and it almost caused a riot."

Suzanne Wever of Snowden Lane, a former associate of the concert committee, wrote an article on the Kneisel Quartet in Princeton which was published in the Princeton University Library Chronicle in 1953. Her research, she writes, failed to reveal anything like a riot.

Schoenberg Enjoyed. Mrs. Wever and other music-lovers smile at Professor West and wonder where his ghost was last week at the Juilliard String Quartet's performance of the Schoenberg Quartet No. 1. Audience and critics agreed afterward that it was a powerful, memorable and indeed dazzling performance, and far from causing a riot, brought a complete hush to the audience that filled McCarter.

The Schoenberg was first performed in Vienna on February 2, 1907. Eleven days later, the Kneisel instrumentalists came to Princeton, offering a program of Mozart, Tchaikowsky and Schumann. Had they heard of Schoenberg?

The Kneisel musicians were almost the only visitors to Princeton for the first 23 years the concerts were given. They made their final appearance on March 29, 1917 with Ossip Gabrilowitsch as "assisting pianist."

Mrs. Fine led Ladies Music Committee until her death in 1928. Mrs. Wever writes that she was "a charming woman who did not hesitate to use her friends and acquaintances in furthering the cause of the concerts."

Budget Met. When it seemed, in the fall of 1896, that subscriptions would not cover concert costs, Mrs. Fine appealed to friends in Princeton and Trenton—using what persuasive powers is not recorded—sold tickets, accepted gifts and raised enough money to sustain four concerts that season.

Nine years later, Professor West had to do a little fund-raising and wrote to Professor Alan Marquand, asking if he would "perform the same stunt you executed so brilliantly last year...write the gentlemen who were our former guarantors and make them stand up to it like men again." Fritz Kreisler's violin wiped out a deficit in January, 1921.

The Kneisel Quartet had been chosen because it was felt that chamber music was the best music. But orchestras came, too. Walter Damrosch brought the New York Symphony Orchestra to Alexander Hall in 1904. Conductors and players loathed the place. It had a huge, marble pulpit right in the middle of the stage and acoustics that made Victor Herbert (yes, Victor Herbert!) say, after he conducted the Pittsburgh Orchestra there in 1901, that Alexander had "echoes behind every pillar."

At this concert, incidentally, Mr. Herbert conducted two movements from a suite by Ernest Trow Carter, of Princeton's Class of '88, and the audience was so excited and roused—precursors of the riot over Smetana?—that the only way Herbert could calm them down was to lead a chorus of "Old Nassau."

Objections Continued. During the 1920s, newer music began to be heard. Against the strenuous objections of Professor West, the composer Darius Milhaud came to Princeton, not to hear his music performed, but to lecture. Not even snow and a Yale hockey game kept away a student audience, the Daily Princetonian reported.

RECYCLING....
 In "Chalk Circle," conventional sets are replaced by movement, and conventional props are made of re-cycled materials in Theatre Intime's production of Bertolt Brecht's "The Caucasian Chalk Circle," opening this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Murray Theatre. (Opening night is a World Food Day benefit performance.)

Director Kathy Mendeloff has actors using their bodies to create a living bridge and using props made of recyclables, thereby achieving economy, forcing actors to stretch their ingenuity and skill and underscoring the dedication of the opening night performance to conservation of the world's resources.

Geulah Abrahams is movement consultant, Denis Davenport is musical director, Kim Myers, Mark Nelson and Steve Reisner are in the cast.

"Chalk Circle" will be played also this Friday, Saturday and Sunday and Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 24, 25 and 26. Reservations may be made at 452-8181 after 12 noon.

"LITTLE FOXES"....
 At PHS, Lillian Hellman's drama of avarice, "The Little Foxes," will be presented by Drama 75 at Princeton High School Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 8, 9 and 10. Curtain-time on Thursday will be 7:30, on Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.

Lawrence A. Mansier of the PHS English department, is directing, assisted by students Lynne Forey, Michael Wurzel, Gordon Silverstein, and Eric Hollander as technical staff.

Regina, "deadliest of the little foxes," in this turn-of-the-century southern family, will be played by Deborah Bergman. Her husband will be Craig Landau; her scheming older brother will be John Wible; another brother will be Nicky Halpern and a nephew will be Jonathan Kuhn. Others in the cast are Dinah Pokempner as Regina's daughter; Beth Adler as an alcoholic sister-in-law; Geoff Becker as a Chicago manufacturer and William Irvine as a bank clerk. The arena stage device which Mr. Mansier will use, means that no member of the audience will be more than 15 feet from the action. Since this limits the size of the audience, reservations are advised. They may be made by calling 924-5600, extension 224 any school day.

SHAKESPEARE, LIVE
 With Richardson. The trouble is, British actor Ian Richardson believes, that teachers have never told students Shakespeare should be seen and not read. "It's the actor's job to convince them those dull years in the classroom were not Shakespeare's fault," he has said.

The renowned British actor will come to McCarter this Friday at 8 p.m. in a concert reading of Shakespeare's love poetry. "Shall I Compare Thee" is the title. Mr. Richardson will present selections from "Love's Labour Lost," "Romeo and Juliet," "Twelfth Night," "Two Gentlemen of Verona," and "The Taming of the Shrew" and several of the sonnets.

BRUBECK
 With Princeton Troupe. Five musicians from the Dave Brubeck Ensemble will appear with students of Princeton's Ballet Workshop in a program of music and dance this Saturday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Princeton High School.

The Ballet Workshop is directed by Imogene Stooke Wheeler. Professional members of her New York-based Bicentennial Ballet will also come to Princeton for the dance event. The program will consist of the peasant pas de deux from "Giselle," "Nocturne," to music by Rossini arranged by Benjamin Britten and choreographed by Ms. Wheeler; "Biljana," a Macedonian bridal folk dance; "Storm," a new ballet by Tim Wengard of the Martha Graham troupe, to be danced in premiere; a pas de deux to Dave Brubeck's "Thank You" and voice improvisations by Indira Danks, done simultaneously with dance improvisations.

PRESERVATION COMING
 From New Orleans. Original New Orleans jazz will shake the old walls of Alexander Hall the night of Friday, April 25, when the Preservation Hall Jazz Band makes a return visit to Princeton. The band will play at 8 p.m., and some tickets are still available at McCarter Theatre's box-office. The average age of the band is somewhere in the 60s, and Jim Robinson, the trombone, is almost 80. Others in the band who will be coming to Alexander Hall are the Humphrey brothers, Percy on cornet and Willie on clarinet; Jim "Sing" Miller on piano; Cie Frazier on drums and Allan Jaffee, founder of the band, on tuba.

MULDAUR, MOORE
 Kottke, Ronstadt. Four top artists in pop and rock will appear in McCarter during April and May. First are Maria Muldaur, whose "Midnight at the Oasis" was a top-ten seller last year, and with her, Tim Moore, whose song, "Second Avenue" won prizes last summer at the First American Song Festival. The pair will perform twice this Saturday, once at 8 p.m. and again at 11. Tickets for both are on sale at McCarter. Guitarist Leo Kottke will appear on Saturday, May 10 at 8 p.m., and Linda Ronstadt, "the queen of country rock" on Monday, May 26. It will be Ronstadt's first Princeton appearance, and she will give two shows: 7:30 and 10:30 p.m.

It's the 86th annual show and everybody (who has bought a ticket) is invited. Milton Lyon is again the director. Further details as they are revealed.

— More Questions and Answers —

Q The Peacock Inn has a bar in its cellars called Peacock Alley. What's it like?
 A. A Rathskellar type, low calligned room that was built in the 1930's, just after prohibition was repealed. For over 40 years it's been a meeting place for famous and not-so-famous people. Basically it's a neighborhood bar serving townspeople and students with a generous mixture of older men and woman providing a Pub like atmosphere.

Q What's a random first impression report likely to be?
 A. It could be called noisy, crowded, smoky and cheerful; or quiet, subdued, peaceful, almost empty - depending on when the report is made. It is both, at different times in the week or in the same evening.

Q Is it a 'hard hat bar', a 'hippy bar', a 'swinging singles bar' — how would one classify Peacock Alley?
 A. Peacock Alley is an incongruous blend of many lifestyles with a sort of serene acceptance of them all. The bar mood is conversation oriented; generally unhurried; non-aggressive; esaxual; general feeling of security and serenity.

Q Is there another bar for those who might not like Peacock Alley?
 A. Yes, upstairs on the main dining level; a conservative, quite subdued but attractive cocktail bar, open for lunch and evenings at five for the cocktail hour.

Q Is everyone welcome?
 A. Yes, well behaved, fiscally sound men and women of good will are welcome. Upstairs bar, 5-12 daily (and lunchtime), Peacock Alley 8-12 pm daily "MUCH ADO," 1920'S STYLE: The post-war London of 1920 will be the setting for Princeton Inn Theatre's production of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," to be performed this weekend and next. Sara Selby and John Seldon, shown here, are the Beatrice and Benedick.

"MUCH ADO"

At Princeton Inn Theatre. Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," played against an Art Deco set in the costumes of the 1920s, will be offered this weekend and next at Princeton Inn Theatre, Alexander Street. General admission tickets are $2.

Rod March, the director, has decided to play out the comedy as it might have been lived by Londoners recovering from the Great War and, in the director's words "boldly reasserting their right to enjoy life to the fullest." An hour glass-shaped stage will take the action directly to the audience.

Beatrice and Benedick, the headstrong pair who are too proud to admit they are in love, will be played by Sara Selby and John Seldon. Against their witty banter will be the counterpoint romance of Claudio (Tom Keels) and Hero (Denise DeNezzo). The wealthy father of Hero will be Herb Levine, and the villainous Don John, Tony Santangelo.

MARCEAU ON FILM

At Players' Meeting. "The Mime of Marcel Marceau," a film depicting the art of the great French pantomimist, will be shown at the regular monthly meeting of the Princeton Community Players next Sunday, April 20, singing career that her marriage nipped in the bud.

The rest of the film is peopled with an astounding range of characters that touch on Alice's life—all of them uniformly vital, high-spirited and creditable. Harvey Keitel is superb and jarringly intense as a cocky, cowboy ladykiller. Diane Ladd is a foul-mouthed but golden-hearted waitress and Kris Kristofferson, a divorced farmer who agrees to give her both a career and marriage. But the core of the film remains the unique relationship between Alice and her son, as each go through the difficult process of redefining themselves. Burstyn's tremendous warmth and range—she reportedly freely influenced the writing of "Alice"—turns the film into a joyous experience.

at 8:30 at their headquarters at 171 Broadmead.

Joanne Mohrman, president of the Players, emphasizes that the general public is always welcome at these meetings. She comments that the program this week will be of particular interest to children whose interest in the theatre is just beginning.

Jazz Concert Planned

The Princeton University Jazz Ensemble will present its spring concert on Saturday, April 26, at 8:30 in Alexander Hall on the University campus. Admission is free.

The Jazz Ensemble, in its first year of existence, has given a concert in Alexander Hall and for numerous dances on the campus. Entirely student-run, the band's musical interests range from Glenn Miller and the Swing Era to the more progressive sounds of contemporary big bands such as Stan Kenton and Maynard Ferguson.

MUSIC

In Princeton

ST. MATTHEW

Twice. Two performances of Bach's "St. Matthew Passion," scheduled to accommodate those who want to hear the work in one sitting, and those who prefer a dinner intermission, will be presented April 18 and 20 by the Princeton University Glee Club.

On Friday, April 18, the work will be sung in its entirety starting at 7:30 p.m., with an intermission between Part I and Part II. On Sunday, April 20, the performance will begin at 4:30 p.m. When Part I ends, about 5:45, there will be a dinner intermission, and Part II will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Walter Nollner, director of the Glee Club, will conduct. Both performances will be given in Alexander Hall. Tickets are available at the Princeton University Store, and will be sold at the door of Alexander Hall before the performances.

Dr. Nollner believes this may be the first Princeton performance of the work in its entirety. He has divided the Glee Club into two choruses and will use two separate orchestras. The Trinity Boys and Girls Choir under James Litton, will assist in two large choruses and two of the chorales. Lance Vining will sing the Evangelist and Christopher Reynolds will be Jesus. Soprano arias will be sung by Charlene Cosman, Princeton University class of '76 and alto arias by Mimmi Fulmer. Lester Erich will sing the tenor arias and Steve Owen the bass arias.

CONCERT SUNDAY

At All Saints' Church. The Collegium Musicum of Princeton with members of the Princeton Community Orchestra will give a concert on Sunday at 8 in All Saints' Church. The program will consist of the "Overture to Iphigenie in Aulis" by Gluck; the "Violin Concerto" of Felix Mendelssohn and "Concertantes Quartett" by Mozart.

Joseph Kovacs, Music Director of the Collegium and the Community Orchestra, will be the violin soloist. Mr. Kovacs serves on the faculty at Douglass College of Rutgers University.

Other soloists include Martha Helms, oboe; Edward Helms, bassoon; Jane Richter, horn, all members of the Trenton State College faculty; and George Jones, clarinet, who was formerly a member of the Rochester Philharmonic and currently teaches at Douglass College. The guest conductor of this concert will be David Agler, Administrative Director of the Festival of Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy, for which he will conduct eight performances of "The Old Maid and the Thief" by Gian Carlo Menotti this summer. Mr. Agler is also Director of Music at All Saints' Church.

The concert is open to the public free of charge.

RECITAL PLANNED
Of State Music Teachers. The New Jersey branch of the Music Teachers National Association will hold its state recital on Sunday at Westminster Choir College. Students participating are representing teachers throughout the entire state of New Jersey. The public is invited.

Preceding the recital, competitions will be held on several levels. Students selected will compete at the New Jersey Music Teachers National Association convention in October to determine finalists at the state level.

Last year's state organ finalist Harold Pysker and Miss Lisa Lochanko, state high school piano finalist, will be guest performers at the board meeting.

AUDITIONS ANNOUNCED
By Opera Association. The Princeton Opera Association has announced auditions for its production of "Die Fledermaus" on May 3, starting at 1 in the United Methodist Church.

The opera will be performed on August 21-23 and 28-30 at the Washington Crossing State Park Summer Theater. All principal and chorus parts are needed. Those interested should call Mrs. Virginia Bachalis at 896-0631 to arrange an audition time.

Lesley Wright, coloratura, and William Cashman, tenor, with Susan Almasi Mandel, pianist, will give a recital on Saturday, at 8:30 at Woolworth Center. They will perform works by Haydn, Brahms, Donizetti, Debussy, and Rachmaninoff.

Lesley Wright is a third year graduate student at Princeton, who has given recitals at Smith College and performed in several operas. William Cashman sings with the Boston Opera Company. The concert, sponsored by the Friends of Music, at Princeton, is free and open to the public.

FROM THE 13TH CENTURY
To Recreate Spanish Mood. Six costumed musicians, singing or playing medieval instruments, and a troubadour-narrator will present a courtly entertainment called "Las Cantigas de Santa Maria"—as it might have been heard in 13th century Spain. Under the auspices of the Princeton University Concerts, "Las Cantigas" will be performed by The Waverly Consort, with Michael Jaffee as director, on May 5 at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre.

The production is based on a famous collection of "cantigas" or songs, recounting in colorful detail the miracles performed by the Virgin Mary. The expressive melodies and lively rhythms of these songs complement the stories of the miracles, which range from mystical adoration to ribald views of the earthy side of Medieval Christianity.

"Las Cantigas de Santa Maria" has toured all over the United States. Raymond Ericson of the N.Y. Times wrote: "...There was not a false element in the production, and the final miracle of the evening was its perfect taste."

Tickets at $6.95 and $5.50 are on sale now at the McCarter box office. Student tickets at $2 will be sold one hour before the performance.

CONCERTS CONTINUE
in Schweitzer Commemoration. The fourth concert at Princeton University commemorating Albert Schweitzer will be given in the University Chapel on Sunday, May 11, at 7 featuring music for organ and soprano. The organist is Jessie Ann Owens GS3, University Organist and the soprano soloist is Anne Tedards.

Works by Johann Sebastian Bach, Bernardo Pasquini, Antonio Vivaldi, Charles John Stanley, Maurice Greene, Henry Purcell, Roger Sessions and E. T. Cone will be presented. The concert is open to the public and admission is free.

21 years at this location

UP FROM TRENTON
Bath & Boudoir Moves Here.
After 12 years of jointly operating a business in their native city of Trenton, twin sisters, Mrs. Toba Coane and Mrs. Hinda Bernstein, have moved The Bath and Boudoir
Shop 10 miles up the road to Princeton.

This light and airy shop, located in a small complex of new stores on Hulfish Street, carries some of the prettiest towels, nightgowns and accessories we have found anywhere. Everything in the store has been individually selected, with both sisters keeping an eye out for the feminine touches that add so much.

While a rainbow selection of Fieldcrest towels forms the basic stock, we noticed several extra pretty sets to choose from. There are white ones with appliqued birds;
brown or tan appliqued with African animals; white, pink, yellow or blue towels embroidered with birds; and cream colored ones trimmed with a ruffle of a delicate floral dotted swiss fabric.

The co-ordinated look is most important and several of these patterns have matching

THE ULTIMATE IN FEMININITY includes a coordinated bed and bath of a delicate yellow flower pattern, trimmed with ruffles and solid yellow piping. With this print are Mrs. Toba Coane and Mrs. Hinda Bernstein, owners of The Bath and Boudoir Shop.

shower curtains and toilet seat covers. However, the ultimate in co-ordination is represented by the continental pattern—delicate sprigs of yellow flowers on a crisp white background (see picture).

This pattern, which also is available with pink or blue flowers comes in sheets, blanket covers, ruffled pillow cases, a round tablecloth and a shower curtain—all piped in solid yellow. Completing the picture are white towels trimmed with ribbon-threaded lace and a ruffle of this fabric, $14 for the bath size.

As Mrs. Bernstein is a registered interior decorator, Bath and Boudoir can also give your bathroom a custom look. To illustrate this Mrs.
Bernstein has used a handsome gold paper with coral flowers in one of the display windows. To this she has added a natural colored bamboo mirror and vanity accented with coral, a molded shell sink in the palest coral and coral towels.

Accessories. When it's time for the final touches, we especially liked the clear lucite and brightly colored plastic accessories (six colors) which include everything from a wastebasket to a soap dish, $9 and up; and a white bath rug with multi-colored sculptured spring flowers, $28.

For after bath no shop would be complete without a choice of terry wraps. Bath and Boudoir has short and long sarongs trimmed with grosgrain, ruffled gingham or embroidered ribbon—and you can add a monogram, $25 and up. There is even a hooded terry wrap for the smallest member of your clan, and these can be personalized too, $25.

If you dream of the luxurious life, pamper yourself with breakfast in bed served on a clear lucite bedtray ($50) set with a 12-piece glass breakfast service decorated with hand-painted flowers, ($38). You might also choose a small pale blue pillow trimmed with ecru lace for your head, and an extra case is included if you happen to spill your coffee, $26.

Throughout the store there are many attractive gifts that do not necessarily have to be placed in either bath or boudoir. Especially notable are the small Beatrix Potter pictures framed with grosgrain and velvet ribbons;
a handwoven woolen throw of pastel squares; and an arrangement of silk parrot tulips and day lilies, $20 to $100.

The Personal Touch. The entire store reflects a personal terry cape, and for any place at all there is a zipper-front, long-sleeved gown in the most gorgeous blue printed with a variety of butterflies and tied with a deep pink sash, $75.

MARIMEKKO DESIGNS
For Spring at Karelia. Certain clothing always retains a classic timeless look regardless of where the current fashion seems to be leading. Two lines that fall into this category are the Marimekko and Vuokko designs.

Made in Finland, and displayed at Karelia, these cotton clothes come in simple, easy-going, styles with vibrant silk-screened prints that tell the real story.

Starting the spring line-up is a scoop-necked full dress that can be sashed or not -- as you please. The print is a very wide multi-colored diagonal stripe, and you have three choices. We particularly liked the pink, green, orange and yellow one which is available either long or just below the knee, $75 and $59.

Another full dress, to be worn with or without its sash, is a sleeveless zipper-front black dress with a long pointed collar -- a perfect background for its white flying seagull print, $65. There is also a long version in royal blue printed with bold white flowers, $85.

One of the prettiest long dresses is in a lighter weight cotton than the rest of the Marimekko styles. In a soft periwinkle blue printed with white flowers, this sleeveless dress has its own attached small cape, $83.

Back on the short side, there is a somewhat tailored short sleeved shirtwaist in a bright red (or blue) printed with rows of short diagonal white dashes, $70.

On the Casual Side. For more casual wear there are a few above-the-knee dresses such as a terribly cute multi-colored dot print. Flaring out from a square neckline are 10 gored panels and completing the flared look are wide sleeves that end at the elbows, $62.

The skirts come in every length -- at the knee, mid-calf and long -- in a wrap style with bold abstract prints, $35 to $55. Perfect with these are the short sleeved T-shirts due to arrive any day.

Although skirts and dresses are dominating Karelia's spring fashions, we did notice a pair of fly-front muslin slacks by Vuokko and there is a zipper-front jacket to match, $36 and $39.

Regardless of what you wear, be sure to add one of Marimekko's many-compartmented canvas shoulder bags in red, navy or natural, $28, and a cotton hat by Vuokko with a stitched brim in a green, yellow or brown that perfectly coordinates with the bold prints of the dresses, $25.

One of the great things about Marimekko fabric is its ability to look as well on a chair as on a dress, and newly arrived are some vinyls guaranteed to give your porch or patio a brightened look. The Charles pattern has a large blue rooster and bright flowers on a white background while Tori shows off colorful fruits and vegetables on a navy background.

There are also stripes and dots, and they are all 51-inches wide at $14 a yard. Karelia is also offering large floor pillows (33 inches square) in these fabrics at $45.

Located at 20 Nassau Street, Karelia is open Monday through Saturday from 10 to 5.

The S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. was founded in April, 1938, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, to sustain and preserve an American tradition--barbershop tradition. Today, it is the largest fraternity of singers in the world with 36,000 members in 700 chapters.

The Princeton chapter was founded in 1969 and now has 50 members, ranging in age from an 18 year old college freshman to a senior citizen of 78. They meet every Tuesday night at the Princeton Day School.

Besides singing for fun, the Princeton Chapter frequently entertains patients in hospitals and nursing homes, residents of Senior Citizen communities, social, fraternal and commercial organizations. It also helps raise funds for the Society's national service project, the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kansas, a center for correcting speech-related defects. Since 1964, the Barbershoppers have donated thousands of hours of time and more than one million dollars to support the activity.

The Princeton Chapter invites all men who enjoy singing with congenial companions to apply for membership. Those interested should contact the membership chairman, Ray Hancock, 2639 Princeton Pike, Trenton 08648; telephone (609) 882-4647.

LECTURE SCHEDULED
By Berlioz Authority. Hugh Macdonald, lecturer in music at the University of Oxford, will give a lecture on "Berlioz and the Stage" on Monday at 4:30 in Room 110 at Woolworth Center. The lecture, sponsored by the Music Department at Princeton University, is free and open to the public.

CONCERT ANNOUNCED
For Westminster Soprano. Judy May, mezzo-soprano and member of the voice faculty of Westminster Choir College, will appear in concert on April 29 at 8 in the Playhouse on the Choir College campus, as part of the 1974-75 Faculty Recital Series. Also appearing will be Reid Alexander, pianist, who will perform several solo works and accompany Ms. May.

A graduate of the Juilliard School in New York, Ms. May is the 1974 winner of the Sterling Staff International Competition.

The program will include the "Chansons de Bilitis" by Claude Debussy, the "Deux Melodies Hebraiques" of Maurice Ravel, and six selections from "Des Knaben Wunderhorn" by Gustav Mahler.

Mr. Alexander, of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music in Appleton, Wisconsin, will perform four "Preludes" of Debussy, including the well-known "Feux D'Artifice." His program will also include the 12 posthumous "Deutsche Tanze" of Franz Schubert.

TODAY'S FASHION QUESTION

What kinds of evening wear do MEN like best on women?

ANSWER

Polls show that a man may like to see other women in revealing clothes, but he prefers his date in fashions that get approving glances, not stares.

For dancing, men like to see long dresses or skirts, all the way to the floor! No high-water hemlines! For entertaining, pantsuits if they flatter the figure. Separates, if colorful. For summer, feminine fabrics, "vacation" colors. Styles like the halter, that show off a tan.

With most men today, the "old fashioned girl" loses out to the look of new, simple elegance. See YOUR choices at...

YES* CASH Plus

Become a YES* CASH PLUS customer at First National Bank and get over-the-phone service on your loan needs, free executive benefits, and a personal representative at the bank.

YES* CASH

Introduced two years ago, the YES* (Your Extra Source) Cash Program allowed:

- A Personal Line of Credit — smaller loans are handled through your own checkbook, quickly and in privacy, and overdraft protection is automatically provided
- Free Checking — no check charge, no service charge, no minimum balance
- An optional American Express Executive Money Card — a $2,000 line of credit and other benefits

YES* CASH Plus

- Now, YES* CASH PLUS brings those who qualify all this plus extended services, including a personal banker to handle the entire program. A privilege card with Archie Lummis's direct-line phone number gives YES* CASH PLUS customers simplified personal services.
- Over-the-phone approval of larger borrowing needs. No need for lengthy visits to the bank — as your banker, Mr. Lummis knows you personally. He'll call you when your loan is arranged and your check is ready.
- Executive benefits: Bank traveler's checks, cashier's checks, certified checks, money orders, stop-payment orders, and the services of a notary public — all free of service charges!

Stop in and talk to Archie Lummis about YES* CASH PLUS, another first from Princeton's First National Bank.

ART In Princeton

REMBRANDT ON VIEW

At University Art Museum. The eye of the beholder and its ability to translate visual pleasures is much influenced by factors other than the physical aspect of the subject. Beauty is not only skin deep, but is a composite of visual stimuli, technical knowledge and the degree of sophistication of the viewer. When scholarship is combined with aesthetic sensitivity, it provides the observer with criteria that increase the amount and depth of pleasure to be received from a work of art.

Rembrandt etchings have been a source of viewing pleasure for many centuries. They have, for many reasons, been the subject of a great deal of study and a combination of the two makes the collection now on view at the Art Museum a particularly rich experience for those lucky enough to have the information necessary to appreciate these fine works on the many levels on which they can be judged.

Rembrandt was a prolific and innovative printmaker. Although his paintings and drawings have been among the more important, it is in the field of graphics that his contribution is considered most significant. It was Rembrandt who developed the means to use this highly technical and disciplined medium in a flexible and expressive manner. He developed new variations of techniques to create visual possibilities that had never before been explored. His creation of darks and highlights by drawing techniques, combining etching and drypoint and a more flexible use of his mordants resulted in linear and tonal effects that had not existed before him.

This collection of etchings demonstrates the many contributions Rembrandt made to this art form. It includes a representative range of subject matter—landscape, portraits and Biblical compositions dominate the grouping. Subtle technical differences can be observed in the linear and tonal approaches.

REMBRANDT: Intense darks created by new technical approaches, are a hallmark of works in the Rembrandt collection now on display at the Princeton University Art Museum. This is a detail from "Christ with the Sick around Him, receiving Little Children," the so-called "Hundred Guilder" print.

There is no data posted at this exhibit. The viewer is advised to bone up before hand in order to implement an already fine viewing experience.

At Gallery 100. Small paintings by Elizabeth Wadleigh Leary continue to display this artists' strong relationship with finely wrought painting techniques. Small landscapes and architectural studies of houses and barns are executed in acrylics.

Well composed works depend upon fine detail to create pattern and form while developing a hyper-realistic effect. Good drawing skills and a great deal of control over the medium combine for effective results.

A collection of flower studies by Anne Walsh are also on display. A variety of flora accompanied by an occasional insect are brightly executed in watercolor and ink line.

They are more decorative than expressive, and the Gallery states that these pictures will be interpreted into place mats and other household pretties. They will no doubt be a cheerful addition to the dinner table.

At Susuki. Oil paintings, watercolors and drawings by Bob Barish are featured at this Kingston gallery. The collection includes a range of media, style and ability levels.

Although talented, this young artist has not focused his work and a variety of developmental works are on view as well as more finished, well constructed pieces. Ventures into many different approaches display an imitative phase which is part of the development of any artist, but is best kept under wraps as it weakens the total statement made by a body of work.

At the Loft. Paintings by James Edwards feature pretty females in grassy meadows. Seeking a surrealist effect, the artist creates a sense of unreality through the placement of nude figures in sparse settings.

Paintings by Pat Lafferty include oil and watercolor in conventional techniques. Landscape and still life are included.

At Gallery of Fine Art. Wolf Kahn uses his landscape as a vehicle for color and form while maintaining the essence of his subject. Barn, meadows and forest formations are combined for interesting and sometimes unusual spatial and color balances that are always pleasing.

Clubs and Organizations

The Dartmouth Club of Princeton will hold its annual husband and wife dinner meeting on Thursday, April 24, beginning at 7 with cocktails at the Hopewell Valley Golf Club. The principal speaker will be associate professor of history Jere R. Daniell of Dartmouth. Reservations at $7.50 can be made by mailing a check to Raymond A. Marks, 217 E. Hanover Street, Trenton.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Princeton First Aid & Rescue Squad, marked its 15th anniversary last week with a banquet at Cedar Gardens Restaurant.

Among those who attended were six of the organization's charter members: Margery Davison, Josephine Fasanella, Doris Cowan, Grace Busch, Florence Hagadorn and Eileen Robertiello. Each was presented with a Lenox bud vase to commemorate her years of service. The affair was planned by a committee headed by Suzan Wyckoff.

The College Club of Princeton will hold a new member tea this Monday from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. George Brown, 117 Hunt Drive, in order to welcome new members.

The Friday Club will meet this Friday for lunch at the YWCA at 12:30. The program will be a recital of "Piano Rags by Scott Joplin," to be played by Theresa Patrick.

Those needing a ride should call the YWCA at 924-4825, before 11 o'clock on Friday.

The West Windsor Senior Citizens will hold a supper meeting next Thursday at 6:30 in the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church. Those attending are asked to bring their favorite dishes, with rolls and drinks to be provided by the club.

In addition to the dinner, a film will be shown, and the possibility of participating in the weekly senior citizens luncheons in the RCA cafeteria will be discussed. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Sarah End at 799-2314 or Mrs. Beatrice Behrens at 799-2086.

The Wilson College Club of the Trenton-Princeton area will hold a covered dish luncheon on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Richard I. Ensminger, 5 Pin Oak Drive, Lawrence Township. Professor James E. Applegate, Chairman of the English Department at Wilson College, will be the speaker at the luncheon. Officers for the coming year will be installed.

Alcohol and Drug Abuse in Children will be the subject of discussion at the meeting of Princeton Single Parents on Tuesday at 8 in the Nassau Presbyterian Church. Mr. John Young, a social worker from Bucks County, Pa. is the guest speaker.

There will be a question and answer period, and a coffee hour will follow.

Princeton Single Parents is a group of adults who are unmarried, widowed, divorced or separated parents. Programs emphasize the support the group can give each individual parent. For further information call: Arline Mulry, 448-9418 (days) or Bill Teasdale, 443-3544, and Julia Miller, 921-7640 (evenings).

John Harker will take the Woman's Club on a "Spring

Walk" at the meeting this Thursday at 1:30 at the Shrine Club of River Road, with pictures and slides of wild flowers, flowering trees and shrubs gathered from a hobby dating back 25 years.

Mrs. Roy V. Lockwood is chairman for the meeting; Mrs. Max H. Mesner, decorations chairman.

The Newcomers Club will meet this Thursday at 12:30 at the YWCA. In honor of National Library Week, the program will feature Mrs. Sue Rock, Assistant Director of the Princeton Library, telling about the services available in the Princeton and area libraries.

Also on the program will be Frieda Gilvarg from the league of Women Voters to talk about the League's activities and volunteer opportunities.

Beautiful things for gracious living

"Con brio" Students
The ladies of the earliest concert committee were most anxious to bring culture to the young gentlemen of Princeton University and according to Suzanne Wever "the boys resisted nobly."
Everybody regarded students with some alarm as boisterous and rude "equally disturbing in both their expressions of pleasure and of disapproval," Mrs. Wever writes in her Library Chronicle article.
To make sure of decorum, three gentlemen of the faculty were invited to join the concerts committee in "an advisory capacity" and it's possible that the scowls of a favorite professor helped to keep down boisterous expressions of pleasure.
The pianist Paderewski never played for student audiences and came to Alexander Hall only in memory of his friendship for Woodrow Wilson.
When the concerts moved to McCosh, the students were allowed to sit downstairs, and what Mrs. Wever calls "the hoi polloi," had to labor upstairs in order to hear the music.

Topics of the Town

Two years later, Paul Whiteman brought his brand of jazz to town and there was scarcely a big enough hall to contain the enthusiasm Professor West's views on this occasion are not a matter of record.

In 1929, Paul Robeson came back home to sing—a far different musical event from the quartet concerts of thirty years before.

Vocal and instrumental soloists came rather late to the concert scene, and many of them have appeared here when they were relatively unknown (and cheaper to come by). Not many music-lovers had heard of Lorin Hollander when the young pianist appeared here in the 60s. Leontyne Price was relatively unknown in January, 1956, when she sang in McCarter. Shirley Verrett and the Guarneri Quartet in the mid-60s were not then world-renowned.

In the season to come, says the current concert manager Maida Pollock, concert-goers will be glad they heard young pianist Andre Michele Schub.

By Request. Although Professor West's views draw a smile, Mrs. Pollock and the Princeton University Concerts Committee do try to shape the programs of artists who come to Princeton. It was known in Princeton, for example, that Juilliard was going to record the Schoenberg and therefore had it finely honed for performance. That's why it appeared on last week's program: by request.

"We have people who've been going to concerts for years and years," Mrs. Pollock points out, "and we don't want them hearing the same thing over and over. We keep a file of works performed. We can tell Brendel, for example, what he played when he was here two or three years ago, and ask him to choose something else."

Mrs. Pollock has been managing the concerts since 1964. Her predecessor, Kit Bryan, ran the show for 18 years—from 1946 until 1964. Both she and Mrs. Pollock have confronted the same difficulties that plagued Mrs. Fine, Professor West, Professor Marquand and all the rest: concert deficits, the high cost of performers, the inadequacy of concert space in Princeton.

High cost? In the '30s, the Budapest String Quartet was on the market for $500: $125 per man. A well-known opera singer, whom Mrs. Pollock doesn't choose to identify, can claim $6,000 and up today. The Cleveland Orchestra—whose late conductor George Szell reportedly refused to return to Princeton if he had to play in McCarter—was charging $12,000 "the last I heard,"

Mrs. Pollock reports. That was two or three years ago.

Most of today's concerts are in McCarter Theatre, although the so-called "Marlboro" series is still up those steep stairs in McCosh. Mrs. Wever discovered that when the concerts moved to McCarter, from such places as Alexander or the Old Chapel, reviewers in the Daily Princetonian devoted more space to the soft seats than to the concert itself. Decadence, Professor West?

VAUDEVILLE!

From Senior Citizens, Vaudeville, comedy acts, singing—the Hamilton Senior Citizen Council's Variety Entertainment Group can do 'em all. The troupe will come to Princeton for a performance on Friday, at 7:30 at the John Witherspoon School. It's free, and everyone is invited.

The Hamilton group is composed of talent in the 55-83 age range. They have given performances throughout the state and even across the borders of New Jersey.

Princeton sponsors are the Joint Commission on Aging and the Recreation Board. Anyone who needs transportation should call Denise King, 921-9480.

COURSE IS PLANNED

To Obtain Hunting License. The 17th annual hunter safety course for all those 10 and older who wish to obtain their initial hunting license will be held Sunday Afternoon and next Friday and Saturday at the Citizens' Rifle and Revolver Club on the Princeton-Hightstown Road.

Those who successfully complete the course will be awarded the certificate required by the state for the purchase of a firearms hunting license. It is sponsored by the Princeton Patrolmen's Benevolent Association under the direction of Ptl. Walter V. Emann.

Hours of the course are 12 noon to 4 on Sunday, 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, April 25, and 8 a.m. to noon the following day. Basic firearm fundamentals, safe hunting practices and hunting laws will be stressed in class. Guns and ammunition are not to be brought to the first two classes. Applications are available from all Princeton area sports stores or from Princeton Borough and Township and West Windsor police headquarters. They must be filled out, signed and mailed to the address on the application. Enrollment is limited and will be on a first come, first served basis. Additional information is available from the police.

covering the 12 divisions of daffodil types, with each entry to consist of one stem and to be named as to variety.

The "Great Unknowns" (Class 46, Section F), will be available for unnamed daffodils which may be presented as a collection of 3 to 5 different varieties.

Entries will be received at the church from 7 to 9 this Monday evening and from 8:15 to 9:45 Tuesday morning by Mrs. Charles Jaffin and Mrs. Homer Jones.

Artistic arrangements will be accepted in two classes: Section D, Class 50, an arrangement of 3 or more varieties of daffodils only, with any type of foliage; and Class 51, an arrangement of spring flowers and foliage which must include some daffodils. No arrangement may exceed the allotted space of 18 inches square.

For additional information and advance registration, please call Mrs. Henry Savage, 924-1444.

FLOWER SHOW PLANNED

By Hopewell Garden Club. This year's spring flower show of the Hopewell Garden Club, to be held next Friday from 2 to 8 at the Hopewell Presbyterian Church, will feature several educational exhibits as well as two artistic arrangement classes.

Ambleside Gardens, Kale's Nursery, the Greenery, and I.S. Rossiter will present the educational exhibits, which will be complemented by a plant sale. Orders will also be taken for geraniums.

Some openings are still available in the two artistic arrangement classes open to the public. One class is for an arrangement to be shown on a pedestal 42 inches high and 14 inches square. To enter, call Mrs. Samuel Hunt, 609-466-1161.

Mrs. Joseph McAlinden, 609-466-1185, is consultant for the miniature class. Entries are to be no more than eight inches in any direction.

DAFFODIL SHOW SET

Accredited Competitinn. The N.J. Daffodil Society and The Garden Club of Princeton will present a Daffodil Show accredited by The American Daffodil Society on Tuesday from 1-5:30 in the conference room of The Nassau Presbyterian Church.

The public is invited to exhibit in the show. Specimens will be accepted in all classes

Princeton Baseball Team Captures First Three To Lead Eastern League Race by Half a Game

Princeton's baseball team, which began the week with an overall mark below .500 (6-7), is nonetheless in first place in the Eastern League. The Tigers, who play their first five games in the annual chase on the road, will be at Annapolis Saturday for a doubleheader with fourth-place Navy.

It was no particular trick to defeat teams as weak as Yale (5-14) and Brown (an unbelievable 0-17), but the games at New Haven and Providence last weekend were absolutely vital to the team's hopes for winning the Eastern League title in Eddie Donovan's final year as its coach. For the first time this season, the Orange and Black won three in a row, and it did so by backing superb pitching—three runs allowed in 23 innings—with the somewhat astonishing total of 31 runs of its own. After sophomore Bob Tufts had whipped Yale, 9 to 1, on Friday, junior Mark Softy threw a 14-0 no-hitter against Brown and Captain Scott McHenry conquered the Bruins, 8-2, in the nightcap.

When the season began, Bob Tufts didn't figure to play much of a role in Princeton's immediate future. The varsity had three established starters in McHenry, Softy and Mike Franch.

But when the Tigers went to Yale to open their league season, the trio of veterans had all run into trouble, while Tufts was 2-0. When the Orange and Black left New Haven, Tufts was 3-0 and had a near-invisible earned run average of 0.67.

Runs Come Often. The Elis, victors over Columbia in a doubleheader a week earlier, appeared to be stronger than they were a year ago, when they finished in the Eastern League cellar. Tufts was in total charge, however, as he scattered seven hits and was rarely in trouble despite four walks.

The victors scored in six of the nine innings, taking a 4-0 lead before Yale pushed over its lone run in the last of the third. Another Princeton run in the fifth and a three-run sixth then wrapped up the decision. Center fielder Glenn Christy got three of Princeton's nine hits and a pair of RBI's.

Softy received errorless support in the first game at Providence Saturday, so the only four runners Brown got aboard were the result of the four walks he issued. But the Tiger junior, whose record is now 2-2, struck out nine during the seven-inning contest.

Clusters of six runs in the fifth and seventh made it a real romp for the Orange and Black, which lashed out a dozen singles and a pair of doubles to go with the 11 bases on balls that two Bruin pitchers issued. The attack was led by second baseman Kevin Kaufman with two hits, three runs batted in and three scored, and sophomore Paul Pecka, the right fielder, whose two hits in two at bats were good for a pair of runs.

McHenry's long-awaited first victory in 1975 was achieved in the nightcap. His mates gave him a 4-0 lead after three and provided a huge cushion with four more in the top of the seventh after Brown had scored in the third and the sixth to cut Princeton's margin to 4-2.

Christy, Pecka and Neil Chamberlain each drove in two runs as six of the victors' 10 hits went for two bases. Pecka, who has nailed down the right field berth, had five hits in six at bats and four runs batted in during the chilly afternoon. The 22 runs against Brown broke by five the record for runs the Tigers have ever scored in a doubleheader.

In the first two weeks weekends of play, the results of other games have broken almost perfectly for the Tigers. Dartmouth, for example, scored only one run in 23 innings but managed to shut out Penn with the one it did get. The games were played on Columbia's Baker Field in New York because Hanover, where Penn was to have gone, is still snow-covered.

Penn, meanwhile, turned back Harvard at Cambridge, handing a defeat to the defending champions. With eight of their 14 league games on the road, the Tigers have the schedule somewhat against them, but they will face both Penn and Harvard on Clarke Field. The Quakers will be here for a doubleheader a week from Saturday.

SPORTS

In Princeton

Princeton was scheduled to face Villanova on the Wildcats' Mainline diamond Tuesday, with Montclair State due here on Wednesday of this week. Following the trip to Navy, Princeton will face Rider Monday at Lawrenceville and go to New Brunswick two days later for a return meeting with Rutgers.

4TH CREW RACE HERE

Child's Cup Saturday. A virtually unprecedented fourth straight race at home is on the Princeton rowing schedule Saturday. The Tigers will entertain Penn, the favorite, and Columbia in the Child's Cup regatta.

Preliminary races over the 2,000-meter course will begin at 3 and proceed at 15-minute intervals. The varsity race is set for 4.

Princeton last weekend followed its opening triumph over Rutgers with clear-cut victories over Navy on Saturday and Yale Sunday morning. It has been close to two decades since Orange and Black oarsmen have won their first three races.

A lead that the Tigers managed at the start of the race was maintained all the way as they defeated Navy for the first time since 1971. At the finish, the margin was a few feet over a length.

With little more than a few ripples on the lake that a week earlier had been churning in gale winds, the winning time was fairly close to normal. Princeton crossed the line in 6:17.3, Navy in 6:21. The Tigers were aware, however, that Rutgers, which they had beaten by a fraction of a length a week earlier, was timed in 6:11.8 as the Scarlet easily beat Northeastern and Yale.

The wind, however, was back on Sunday, along with lower temperature. In an unusual Sabbath morning race, Princeton outrowed Yale by a length and a half. The winners' time was 6:38.1, more than 20 seconds behind their clocking against Navy. Yale's time was 6:44.9.

IVY RACE TO START

For Tiger Lacrosse Team. Victor over Navy for the first time since 1969, Princeton's lacrosse team will open its Ivy League season Saturday against Yale at New Haven. The Tigers will then play Penn at Philadelphia next Wednesday before Dartmouth, Brown and Harvard come to Finney Field.

Cornell, the defending champion, appears a strong bet to repeat, but Princeton has a good shot at finishing second, an achievement that would be its best in eight years. Coach Art Robinson seems virtually assured of guiding the Tigers to their first campaign above .500 in his six seasons here.

He began the week with a 4-2 mark after a rousing 15-14 upset of Navy, a triumph which Princeton appeared to have easily in hand until the final six minutes. The midshipmen then very nearly closed the gap with a five-goal outburst as Tiger defenses all but came apart at the seams.

Two of the numerous players who produced a 9-1 mark as freshmen last year were largely responsible for the victory over Navy, although numerous Princeton players stood out in the team effort. Attackmen Wick Sollers and Dave Tickner both scored six goals, in all likelihood an all-time Princeton record. Figures are not available prior to 1961—since

Walters Named Dartmouth Basketball Coach

Gary Walters, a teammate of Bill Bradley's at Princeton and assistant coach under Pete Carril for the past two seasons, has been named head basketball coach at Dartmouth. He will replace Marcus Jackson, who resigned shortly after the end of his first year at Hanover.

Walters has been considered here as an unusually fine assistant coach. He came back to his alma mater just before the 1973-74 season began, when Bill Van Breda Kolff, who had been working with Carril, suddenly left to return to the NBA.

Carril gives Walters great credit for the Tigers' strong finish a year ago, and particularly for their 13 straight triumphs last winter, which culminated in the NIT championship. Walters, on the other hand, has indicated that the high degree of participation extended to him here "has resulted in my philosophy mirroring Carril's."

If Dartmouth can provide him with the calibre of material that once matriculated at Hanover, there is little doubt Walters' expertise will return the Green to a contender's role in Ivy action. All-Ivy at Princeton in his junior and senior years, he was a starting guard for three seasons ('64-'67), playing on the team that Bradley captained while leading the Tigers to third place in the NCAA Tournament a decade ago.

"team spirit is still very very good", and he hopes that a few "ifs"—pitching, defense and poise—will soon round into form.

For instance, last year's ace pitcher Glenn Russo has had a rocky beginning, unable to bring down his curves, fast ball and slider. As a result, he suffered four trying innings against Rutgers and then gave up six consecutive hits in the first inning of the Pennington game. Four runs scored.

But a bright spot for PDS was the performance of Mark Blaxill, who pitched seven full innings in relief against Pennington and allowed just three hits and four unearned runs, the result of three Panther errors. Also, Frank Piccolella turned in a commendable relief stint against Rutgers Prep, yielding but one unearned run in almost three innings.

The other pitching hope, freshmen Mike Walters, has had a sore arm, while first baseman Bill Baggitt still awaits his first relief call.

Therefore, DeVito planned to use Russo in a game scheduled for Wednesday against Blair Academy, followed most likely by Blaxill on Friday at home against Hun School, which the coach described as "always tough and consistent."

Hitting Strong. The Panthers' hitting, sparked by Frank Konstantynowicz and Blaxill with two hits in each game, has been impressive. Bill Baggitt also has several hits, including a solo homer against Pennington that cleared the pagoda in center field.

For instance, PDS drew close to Rutgers in the top of the third thanks to a couple by Blaxill, a single by John Hickling, a sacrifice bunt by Russo, a double by Konstantynowicz and a single by Baggitt, producing three runs. But three consecutive PDS double in the next inning only produced one run when the second man was picked off.

that time, three players have scored five goals on various occasions.

Sophomores were responsible for all 15 of the winning goals, and for 8 of the 12 assists. The Tigers took a 3-0 lead in the first period, bent before a Navy onslaught which changed the score to 5-3 before the second quarter was half gone and then bounced back with four more to take a 7-5 lead at the intermission.

Navy rallied again to create a 9-9 tie as the third period drew to a close. The home team then took leads of 12-9 and 15-9 before barely staving off the losers' final outburst.

The Tigers were scheduled to play Army at West Point this Wednesday. If they managed to repeat last year's 12-7 success over the cadets, it would be the first time in more than two decades that Army and Navy had been beaten in a single season.

LONG BALL STUNS PDS
Baseball Team Loses Two. Picture a typical inning. The first Rutgers Prep batter walked, but was thrown out stealing by Princeton Day School catcher Scott Ware.

The next batter also walked, only to be picked off first. Two outs, bases empty, third inning, PDS losing by 4-3.

The next Rutgers batter reached base on an error. Before he too could be picked off, the fourth hitter of the inning had unloaded a long fly that the wind helped carry over the left field fence to give his home club a 6-3 lead over PDS in last Tuesday's opening game.

That two-run homer added to a three-run shot in the second, along with three unearned runs in the fourth proved to be the difference as Rutgers Prep wound up with a 10-4 win, despite being out-hit, 8-6. However, Rutgers Prep did exploit four visitors' errors and five walks, whereas PDS Coach Tom DeVito lamented, "we're leaving men on base and not hitting in the clutch."

The PDS nine was again unable to hit in the clutch in its second game against Pennington, losing a similar style contest by 8-4, even though it collected ten hits to their opponents' eight.

Spirits Still Good. The early season losses have not deterred DeVito's enthusiasm for future challenges. He says, ending the Panthers' output for the day.

Konstantynowicz also had a hand in the scoring against Pennington, driving in two runs with a single and stealing home for another as part of a double steal. But overall, PDS missed the big hits with men on base, mainly because the team isn't relaxed enough yet to rely on "second nature", said DeVito.

After the Hun contest, the PDS season will continue next Wednesday with a road contest game against Montclair Academy, which PDS defeated last year, 5-3.

WINNERS LISTED

In Springdale Tournament. The 1975 season opened Saturday at Springdale Golf Club with members taking part in an 18-hole Scramblers' Tournament. Each foursome used the best shot from the tee, the other three players dropping their ball near that one and following the same procedure until the final putt.

A six-under par 65 won. Winners were Oliver Houghton, Bob McCarthy, Jim Schwartz and Ken Dawes, who compiled a best ball of 33-32. Runners up at 66 were Sol Davidson, Jim McKinnon, Lester Robbins and Dick Bradley. Tied for third place with 68s were Moore Gates, Jr., the club champion; Dean Chase, Charles Bardwell and Bill Field; Jim Litvack, Paul Hurley, Don Ehret and Steve Skillman.

The first formal tournament will begin Saturday, April 26, when 16 two-man teams qualify for the Governors' Cup. First-round elimination matches will start the following morning, with the finals scheduled for Saturday, May 10.

PHS NINE WINLESS

After First Three Starts. The Princeton High School baseball team must be wondering what it has to do to win.

Friday, Pete Watson and Dave Kodner combined to limit Notre Dame to one hit but the Irish still won without any strain, 3-0. Aside from a play at the plate, a suspect call which went against the Little Tigers, PHS never threatened.

Coach Jim O'Neill summed up the urgency when he gathered his team in the dugout before the start of its last chance at bat.

"Things have been going bad. You've had two bad breaks out there today. You deserve to win a game, but we haven't generated any offense. Choke up on the bat. Let's have some offense. We've got to have a game here!"

PHS FIREMAN: Senior Dave Kodner, a relief pitcher, has appeared in all of Princeton High School's first three games.

It was not to be. Kodner flied to center, Tony Ferrara struck out, Eddie Volz singled over short for Princeton's fourth hit of the afternoon, but Eric Jahn ended it with a comebacker to the mound.

Sophomore John Walker got the win for Notre Dame as he tantalized the Little Tigers with an assortment of junk pitches. Mike Boccanfuso, Scott Thompson, Jahn and Volz solved him for the four singles. All of Notre Dame's runs were unearned.

Notre Dame (3-2) scored all the runs it needed in the second when Joe Drulis walked, stole second (ND ran at will against PHS, stealing base ten times in the game) and advanced to third on a passed ball. Drulis then scored on a close return throw to the plate following a grounder to third.

There were two more rhabarbs at the plate, both going against PHS. In the third, after Thompson had singled, Boccanfuso drilled another single. In a disputed call, Thompson was ruled out at the plate. Don Seitz, the next PHS batter, was thrown out of the game when he told his coach that Thompson was never tagged and the home plate umpire overheard him.

In the fifth, Notre Dame's burly catcher, Carl Danbury walked, stole second and third. ND went on to load the bases. Centerfielder George Mattonelli then rapped a grounder to Larry Howell at short.

Danbury was out at the plate but when Ferrara turned to throw down to first for the double play, Danbury crashed into him and sent him sprawling. PHS insisted it was interference; the umpire said, no, Danbury was on his way to the dugout. Joe Kale scored on the play for ND.

An error by Volz in right, followed by two stolen bases and another error in center on a fly by the usually sure-handed Paul Soderman netted the home team its third run.

Actually, PHS had played its best defensive game of the season but it was no match for the destructive pattern of a walk or stolen base here, followed by a passed ball or error there. "We just aren't challenging pitchers like we should," said Seitz. Watson (0-2) took the loss.

Hopewell Valley Wins, 12-2. Earlier in the week, PHS and Hopewell Valley were tied 2-2 after three innings. The visiting Bulldogs broke the game open in the fifth, scoring five runs off reliever Greg Robinson on one hit—a single by shortstop Bob Whitlock.

In the next inning, Hopewell added three more on a tremendous home-run by Todd Lovell that rolled to the tennis fence in deep left field.

The victors added two more in the seventh to make it a 12-2 final.

PHS was outhit only by 9 to 8, as Larry Howell collected three hits. Howell and Watson, the latter playing third, drove in Princeton's two runs. Starter Greg Warnagieris took the loss. Bruce Eckmeyer, who pitched four scoreless innings of relief for Hopewell, got the win.

PHS STILL SEARCHING

For First Baseball Win. Princeton High School's game with visiting Lawrenceville School Monday was over by the time the third Larrie batter had gone to the plate.

Following a leadoff single by Seth Waugh and a walk, Jim Sweeney hit a three-run homer and that was all the Larries needed. Sweeney added a double and two singles to drive in four of the victors' nine runs. Senior Tom Recknar, making his first start, limited PHS to three hits enroute to a 9-1 win.

It is fast approaching panic-button time for the Little Tigers, who have not been in contention in any of their first four starts. The pitching has been ineffective, the hitting sparse and the fielding spotty. One can't think of a more sweeping indictment.

PHS will next play Lawrence High School Saturday at 1:30 on the Cardinals' diamond in a make-up of an earlier game and then play host to Ewing Tuesday afternoon at 3:45.

Princeton made its lone run against Lawrenceville (2-0) in the first. After Paul Soderman got on via an error, little Mike Boccanfuso tripled him home. Soderman lined a single over third in the third inning but was picked off later in a rundown. Don Seitz got his first hit of the season in the fourth—a single—but died on base.

Seitz, an outfielder, made his first pitching start of his career and lasted until the fourth when coach Jim O'Neil pulled him following successive singles by Waugh and Dave Singleton. The visitors also stole a pair of bases in the inning to score their fifth run. Greg Warnagieris replaced Seitz. He ran into trouble in the seventh when Lawrenceville combined a PHS error, walk, sacrifice, Sweeney's double and a single by Singleton for three runs. Mike Boonin pitched the final out.

Recknar received air tight support in the field from his teammates, especially from centerfielder Dave Walker who twice robbed PHS of sure hits by fine diving catches. Catcher Dave Seagers was one of his victims in the fourth, Walker catching his deep shot to center near the football stands. Shortstop Larry Howell, who hit the ball sharply all afternoon, was robbed in the sixth.

Seagers, brought up from the jayvee squad by O'Neill, was making his first start as was Greg Robinson at third. PHS has too much talent to keep on losing but it can ill afford a slump in a short season.

PDS STICKMEN NOW 3-0

At Clark Friday. Coach Chuck Simpson's Princeton Day School lacrosse team made it three straight without a loss last week after an easy 16-1 victory Saturday over Montville High School and a satisfying, come-from-behind 3-2 decision earlier over Edison.

Billy Erdman scored four goals in the Montville rout while Ditch Gordon accounted for two third-period goals in the Edison triumph. Both wins came over B division opponents.

Friday at 3:30, the Panthers will take on a tough Clark team, a member of the A division, in what Simpson calls "our first stern test."

Clark's only loss this season has been to Peddie. The game will be played on Clark's field.

This Wednesday, PDS was scheduled for a game at Blair Academy. "Based on what I saw last year, I think we're better than Blair," commented Simpson.

The game with Montville (near Boonton) "came down, basically, to our stick work versus their brute force," said Simpson. The Panthers won because they weren't intimidated by the taller, bigger home team. PDS scored three in the first period to take a 3-1 margin then added four in the second, five in the third and four more in the final period.

Following Erdman's four-goal performance were Dave O'Conner with three, Jack Bonini (Simpson's "thinking attackman") with two goals and three assists and Tommy Moore with two. Contributing single goals were Martin Zawadsky, Steve Judge, Jeb Burns, Jimmy Duabert and Gordon.

Goalie Rick Olson had nine saves and had no trouble shutting out the home team once he got adjusted to its penchant for shooting from the side. The win was not without cost, however. In the bruising game, Zawadski sustained a shoulder point injury and will be lost for a couple of weeks.

"The most important thing now is injuries," stated Simpson. Lacking depth, the Panthers cannot afford any more if they hope to preserve their winning streak.

"We Didn't Challenge Them." Edison took advantage of a screen shot and a well-placed goal plus some fine goaltending to take that 2-0 lead over PDS at halftime. "We allowed them to play lacrosse, we didn't play tough defense, we didn't challenge them," said Simpson.

The second half was dominated by PDS. "We started to poke check and take the ball away; we played aggressive defense. We worked the ball well and our patience paid off," said Simpson.

Gordon's two goals were the result of beating his defenseman and placing his shot well. Erdman, who got the third goal, is the team's high scorer. Olson had 10 saves, his Edison counterpart, 16. "He must have had at least 10 in the first half," said Simpson.

HUN VS. PDS FRIDAY
2-1 After First Week. Involved in a slugfest, a laughter and a one-hitter in its first three games, the Hun baseball team won two for a .667 start.

In its second week, Hun will oppose rival Princeton Day School Friday at 3:30 on the PDS diamond and Perkiomen at home Wednesday in a 2:30 contest. This Wednesday afternoon, it was scheduled to meet Friends Central in a Penn-Jersey League contest on the latter's diamond. Hun coach Bill McQuade needs another week before he can answer the question: is Hun's hitting as potent as the first two games would indicate or is it vulnerable to top-flight pitching?

The question surfaced following Hun's 2-0 loss to Ewing in which Art Miccio limited Hun to one hit—a leadoff single by sophomore third baseman Pete Scibetta in the sixth—and struck out ten. Kemp Gregory, McQuade's assistant, coached Hun for the game while McQuade was serving National Guard duty, but McQuade commented later that he was concerned after learning about half of Hun's strikeout victims came on called strikes.

Sharp in contrast was Hun's home opener last week when it buried Girard College, 28-10. Twenty-one Hun batters went to the plate in the fourth inning when Hun scored 14 runs.

Other Sports on Page 16

Tom Dunn drove in four runs with a pair of triples, a double and single while Ernie Barbiero added a triple in Hun's 18-hit onslaught. Girard College, a newcomer to the Penn-Jersey League, made it first league game a memorable one by committing 11 errors.

How bad was it? McQuade commented that in one inning with the bases jammed and two down, the ball was popped up. "I started to walk off the field but the second baseman dropped the ball. It just got out of hand," he continued, "but I know I wouldn't want to be on that side of the fence."

Tom Sumner, who pitched the first four innings for Hun, giving up two hits and no runs, got the win.

Hun Falls Behind. In its opener played the day before, Hun managed to overcome a 5-0 first inning deficit and outlast Pingry, 13-10. The game was played in unseasonably cold weather and took more than three hours, the first inning alone consuming 45 minutes.

Hun's defense fell apart at the onset when it gave up two walks, committed three errors and a wild pitch. Pingry chipped in with a hit of its own for five runs. After that, starter Barbiero began to settle down.

NETMEN LOSE OPENER
To Christian Brothers. It wasn't that the Princeton High tennis team lost—after all, Christian Brothers Academy was the New Jersey state parochial school tennis champion last year, including PHS among its victims, and was 3-0 this year. But the 5-0 score sent PHS followers home wondering when the last time the Little Tigers had been blanked.

There wasn't a close match as coach John O'Shea's visiting team rolled to its fourth straight. It was Princeton's first match of the year, the opener with Trenton having been postponed because of cold weather and rescheduled for April 29.

In the number one singles, Princeton's Dan Aronovic was ahead 5-2 and was leading 40-love in the game that would have given him the set but he couldn't hold it. Commented Dan on his opponent: "He started coming on. His serves became very effective, and lost the first set 7-6 and the second, 6-1. Andre Eichenberger dropped the number two singles, 6-2, 6-0, and Dan Schulman the third singles, 6-3.

In doubles play, Malcolm Benjamin and Allen Aronovic lost, 6-1, 6-1 while the number two doubles of David Bowen and Dan Amarel fared little better, losing, 6-1, 6-3.

PHS will be at Moorestown on Friday, Lawrence High School on Monday and play host to Notre Dame at 3:45 on Wednesday. It was scheduled to oppose Princeton Day School this Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at the PDS courts.
